Source: Administer Health Cloud - Actionable Relationship Center

Complex Associations:

ARC supports multiple relationship types, including personal, clinical, and organizational connections, enabling users to easily view and manage these associations in a single, unified interface.

Exact Extract:

"With Actionable Relationship Center, care coordinators and other users can view, create, and manage the relationships between patients, their care teams, household members, and service providers. The ARC visualization tool shows complex relationships between people and organizations." Reference:

User Experience:

The visual nature of ARC allows users to not only see but also take actions on relationships (for example, add new relationships or navigate directly to related records) without leaving the ARC view. This functionality is not provided by the Patient Card, Care Team, or Enhanced Timeline, which focus on other aspects of patient information or care.

Differentiation from Other Features:

Patient Card: Displays a summarized view of patient details and care info.

Care Team: Manages members involved in a patient's care but does not visualize all associations.

Enhanced Timeline: Focuses on displaying chronological care events.

Conclusion:

For visualizing and acting on all types of relationships-personal, practitioner, organizational, and more-the Actionable Relationship Center is the recommended and officially documented Health Cloud feature.
