The screenshot shows the PMI-ACP Practice Exam Course interface. On the left, a sidebar lists domains: Domain I, Agile Principles and Mindset (16%); Domain II, Value-driven Delivery (20%); Domain III, Stakeholder Engagement (17%); Domain IV, Team Performance (16%); Domain V, Adaptive Planning (12%); Domain VI, Problem Detection and Resolution (10%); and Domain VII, Continuous Improvement (9%). The main area displays a quiz question for Domain I: "Maria is a Product Manager at ABC's Technology. Maria's team is starting on a new project and has recently adopted the Scrum model. What is something Maria can do to support the need for transparency and adaptation?". Below the question are four answer options: A) She can utilize a product backlog; this will help the team in their planning processes. B) Maria could share a standard project plan using a Gantt chart; the team will stick to this plan. C) Maria could accept any changes as soon as they come in; scheduling an urgent meeting to shuffle the team's focus to the new work. D) She could hold ad-hoc 1-1 meetings to get updates on what everyone is working on; using these to share when project direction changes. Option A is marked as correct. A note below the answers states: "This answer is correct. Maria should utilize a product backlog and task boards to provide transparency and visualize the work that needs to be done. Product backlogs serve as the single source for all project requirements and is a dynamic list that is updated as the product evolves, providing the opportunity to be agile and adapt." A "NEXT" button is visible at the bottom right.
