Saviynt IGA Certified Professional Exam (L100) 認定 SAVIGA-C01 試験問

題 (Q38-Q43):

質問 #38

Which of the following SAV Roles grant users the privilege to edit UI Labels?

- A. ADMINULROLE
- B. ROLE_ADMINUI
- C. ROLE.UIADMIN
- D. UIADMIN ROLE

正解: D

解説:

The UIADMIN ROLE in Saviynt grants users the privilege to edit UI (User Interface) labels. This role is crucial for customizing the Saviynt interface to align with an organization's terminology and branding.

* UI Customization: Saviynt allows administrators to modify various UI elements, including labels, to improve user experience and comprehension. The UIADMIN ROLE provides the necessary permissions for these modifications.

Why other options are incorrect:

The other options are not standard Saviynt roles and do not have any associated privileges for UI label editing.

Saviynt IGA References:

* Saviynt Documentation: The documentation on Saviynt's administration and configuration settings includes information about UI customization and the associated UIADMIN ROLE.

* Saviynt Support: Saviynt's support resources may contain articles or knowledge base entries related to UI customization and the permissions required.

質問 #39

Anitha, a manager, has a large number of users reporting to her, with most of them working remotely.

Which of the following Campaign Types would you recommend for this scenario to reduce certification fatigue for Anitha?

- A. Launch User Manager Campaign and then Self Certification Campaign on certified items
- B. Launch Application Owner Campaign and then Self Certification Campaign on certified items
- C. Launch Service Account Campaign and then User Manager Campaign on certified items
- D. Launch a Self Certification Campaign and then User Manager Campaign on certified items

正解: D

解説:

To reduce certification fatigue for Anitha, a manager with a large number of remote users, the recommended approach is C. Launch a Self Certification Campaign and then User Manager Campaign on certified items. Here's the rationale:

* Self Certification Campaign:

* Purpose: Allows users to review and certify their own access.

* Benefits for this scenario:

* Reduces Manager Burden: Shifts the initial review responsibility from Anitha to the individual users, who are most familiar with their own access needs.

* Scalability: Well-suited for large, distributed teams, as it doesn't rely solely on the manager's capacity.

* Empowerment: Gives users more control over their access and promotes a culture of accountability.

* User Manager Campaign on Certified Items:

* Purpose: Allows managers to review and certify their subordinates' access.

* Benefits when combined with Self Certification:

* Focus on Exceptions: Anitha can focus her review on items that were not self-certified or that require further scrutiny after the initial self-certification.

* Reduced Volume: The volume of items Anitha needs to review is significantly reduced, as users have already certified their own access.

* Increased Efficiency: Streamlines the manager's review process, making it more manageable and less time-consuming.

* Why Other Options Are Less Suitable:

* A. Launch User Manager Campaign and then Self Certification Campaign on certified items: This sequence is less effective because it puts the burden on the manager first, potentially leading to fatigue.

* B. Launch Application Owner Campaign and then Self Certification Campaign on certified items: Application Owner campaigns are not relevant to a manager's review of their subordinates' access.

* D. Launch Service Account Campaign and then User Manager Campaign on certified items:

Service Account campaigns are for reviewing service accounts, not user access.

質問 #40

What is the maximum file attachment limit for a request?

- A. 0
- B. 1
- C. 2
- D. 3

正解: D

解説:

The maximum file attachment limit for a request in Saviynt is typically 10. Here's an explanation:

Saviynt's Access Request System (ARS): The ARS allows users to attach files to access requests to provide supporting documentation or justification.

Attachment Limits: To prevent excessive storage usage and potential performance issues, Saviynt imposes limits on the number and size of attachments allowed per request.

Default Limit: The default maximum number of attachments allowed per request in Saviynt is generally 10.

Configuration: While 10 is the common default, it's worth noting that this limit might be configurable within the ARS settings in some Saviynt deployments. However, significantly increasing this limit could impact performance.

File Size Limit: In addition to the number of attachments, there's also usually a limit on the individual file size and the total size of all attachments combined. This is also generally configurable. These file size limits are important for maintain system stability and performance.

Error Handling: If a user attempts to exceed the attachment limit, Saviynt will typically display an error message, preventing them from submitting the request until the number of attachments is reduced.

質問 #41

Single Sign-On is enabled in EIC using Azure Identity Provider. In this scenario, can the user log in using Azure and EIC native authentication?

- A. True
- B. False

正解: B

解説:

When Single Sign-On (SSO) is enabled in Saviynt EIC using an external Identity Provider (IdP) like Azure AD, it generally becomes the exclusive authentication method. This means users cannot use Saviynt's native authentication (i.e., logging in with a username/password stored directly within Saviynt).

Reasons for this:

* Security and Centralized Control: SSO with an IdP enhances security by centralizing authentication and enforcing stronger password policies. Allowing native logins would create a potential bypass of these security measures.

* User Experience: SSO provides a seamless login experience, eliminating the need for users to remember multiple credentials. Offering both SSO and native logins could lead to confusion and a less streamlined process.

* Administrative Efficiency: SSO simplifies user management by delegating authentication to the IdP.

Administrators don't need to manage separate user accounts and passwords within Saviynt.

Saviynt IGA References:

* Saviynt Documentation: Saviynt's documentation on SSO configurations emphasizes that enabling SSO typically disables native authentication methods.

* Saviynt Best Practices: Saviynt's best practices for SSO recommend enforcing SSO as the sole authentication method for improved security and user experience.

* Saviynt Implementation Guides: Implementation guides for setting up SSO with various IdPs, including Azure AD, often highlight the exclusive nature of SSO authentication.

質問 #42

The process of Attestation or Certification can be best described as:

- A. Access Request
- B. Segregation of Duties
- C. Application Onboarding
- D. Access Reviews

正解: D

解説:

The process of Attestation or Certification in the context of Saviynt can be best described as B. Access Reviews. Here's why:

* Attestation/Certification: These terms are often used interchangeably in the context of identity governance. They refer to the process of formally reviewing and approving or revoking user access rights.

* Access Reviews: This is the broader term that encompasses the entire process of periodically reviewing user access to ensure it is appropriate and aligned with business needs and security policies. Attestation and Certification are specific actions performed within an access review.

* Saviynt's Campaigns: Saviynt's campaigns are designed to facilitate and manage access reviews.

* Why Other Options Are Less Suitable:

* A. Segregation of Duties: SoD is a principle that aims to prevent fraud and errors by dividing critical tasks among different individuals. While access reviews can help enforce SoD, they are not the same thing.

* C. Access Request: This is the process of requesting access to resources, which is a separate process from reviewing existing access.

* D. Application Onboarding: This is the process of integrating an application into Saviynt, which is a prerequisite for access reviews but not the review process itself.

In conclusion: Attestation or Certification, as performed within Saviynt campaigns, are integral parts of the broader process of Access Reviews, which aim to ensure that user access is appropriate, authorized, and aligned with security policies.
