What is causing this issue?

- A. The users' profile is missing the Export Reports permission.
- B. Exporting Is configured to require a high assurance session.
- C. The users are logged Into an Insecure network.
- D. Users need to update their browser to the latest version.

Answer: B

Explanation:

A high assurance session is a type of session security level that requires users to verify their identity using a second factor of authentication, such as Salesforce Authenticator, a verification code, or a security key.

Administrators can configure certain actions or permissions to require a high assurance session, such as exporting reports, viewing encrypted data, or accessing connected apps.

If users are able to run reports but are taken to a login screen and prompted for additional verification when they try to export a report, it could be because exporting is configured to require a high assurance session. This means that users need to use a second factor of authentication to export reports, even if they have already logged in with their username and password.
