NEW QUESTION # 68
Which tool fits the mentioned acceptance test activities BEST?

- A. Model-based testing tools for managing incidents.
- B. Test management and automation tools for business process model-based acceptance test generation.
- C. Business process management tools for modeling business processes and rules.
- D. Requirements management tools for managing acceptance test execution campaigns.

Answer: C

Explanation:
Acceptance testing often relies on understanding and validating business processes and business rules. These are typically visualized and documented using business process modeling techniques such as BPMN (Business Process Model and Notation) and decision tables (DMN - Decision Model and Notation).
Business Process Management (BPM) tools are specifically designed for modeling and managing such workflows and rules. These tools are commonly used during acceptance test design to align tests with business objectives and processes.
Option C is correct because it directly aligns with the use of business process modeling in acceptance testing activities.
Other options:
A is incorrect because requirements management tools are more focused on requirement traceability and prioritization, not managing test execution campaigns.
B confuses roles - test management/automation tools can assist with test generation, but "business process model-based" generation is more accurately linked to BPM or model-based testing tools.
D is incorrect - model-based testing tools are used for test case generation, not incident management.
C). Business process management tools for modeling business processes and rules.

- B. Defect reports for the project's steering group
- C. Progress trend charts for the project manager
- D. Top 3 testing project risks for system users

Progress trend charts (e.g., test execution over time, defect trends) provide insights into how the project is advancing and help identify delays or bottlenecks.
Option B is correct as it fits the informational needs of a project manager.
Other options:
A: Defect reports are too detailed for steering groups, which prefer strategic summaries or risk reports.

C: Pie charts may provide high-level summaries, but development teams usually need detailed defect or test result data.

D: System users (e.g., customers) are not responsible for project risks and would not benefit from test risk rankings.

B). Progress trend charts for the project manager
