Oracle Database SQL Sample Questions (Q124-Q129):

NEW QUESTION # 124

Which two statements are true regarding the UNION ALL operators?

- A. The output is sorted by the UNION ALL operator.
- B. The number of columns selected in each SELECT statement must be identical
- C. The names of columns selected in each SELECT statement must be identical.
- D. Duplicates are eliminated automatically by the UNION ALL operator
- E. NULLS are not ignored during duplicate checking.

Answer: B,E

Explanation:

The UNION ALL operator in SQL combines the results of two or more SELECT statements into a single result set:

* Option A: True. Since UNION ALL does not eliminate duplicates, it does not ignore NULLs during any duplicate checking; however, it's worth noting that UNION ALL does not perform duplicate checking at all.

* Option B: False. Unlike the UNION operator, UNION ALL does not eliminate duplicates; it includes all duplicates in the output.
* Option C: False. The column names do not need to be identical in each SELECT statement; however, the result set will use the column names from the first SELECT statement.

* Option D: True. For UNION ALL to work correctly, the number of columns and their data types in each SELECT statement must match, but the column names can differ.

* Option E: False. UNION ALL does not inherently sort the output; it merely combines the results as they are retrieved. Any sorting would need to be explicitly specified using an ORDER BY clause.
