Veeam Certified Engineer v12 Sample Questions (Q71-Q76):

NEW QUESTION # 71

An engineer sets up a backup job with direct backup to the AWS S3. The retention of the job is set to 31 days and the immutable period is set to 31 days. However, one full backup data is not removed automatically after 60 days.

Which option could be the reason for this?

- A. A retention exception is enabled for the restore point.
- B. The backup job is disabled accidentally.

- C. It is an active full backup, not synthetic full.
- D. The backup data is encrypted.

Answer: C

Explanation:

In active full backups, the entire dataset is backed up each time the backup job runs, whereas in synthetic full backups, only the changes since the last full backup are backed up. If the engineer configured the backup job to run active full backups instead of synthetic full backups, it's possible that the data from the full backup taken 60 days ago is still being retained as part of the regular backup process. Therefore, it hasn't been removed automatically after 60 days as expected.

NEW QUESTION # 72

A company needs to recover a VM from VMware very quickly. The company decides to use Instant VM Recovery from their last backup. What platforms can this backup be instantly restored to? (Choose three.)

NEW QUESTION # 73

A company needs to restore a database server without restoring sensitive information due to data sovereignty requirements. How can the company meet this requirement?

- A. Configure a virtual lab and select Staged Restore mode in the restore wizard.
- B. Configure the SureRestore settings to prevent sensitive data restoration based on YARA rules.
- C. Configure the Secure Restore settings to prevent sensitive data restoration based on YARA rules.
- D. Configure the virtual lab and select SureBackup mode in the restore wizard.

Answer: A

Explanation:

To restore a database server without sensitive information, the company can use Staged Restore mode. This feature allows the execution of scripts (e.g., SQL scripts) within a virtual lab to modify or remove sensitive data during the restore process. By setting up a virtual lab, the restore occurs in an isolated environment where sensitive data can be removed or altered before completing the recovery. This approach ensures compliance with data sovereignty requirements while restoring the database server.
