Questions (Q19-Q24):

NEW QUESTION # 19

Which of the following is an example of a primary source?

- A. Reading a book
- B. Studying a journal article
- C. Conducting an interview
- D. Searching a website

Answer: C

Explanation:

A primary source provides firsthand information or original data, such as an interview, where the information comes directly from the source. Option A (journal article) is typically a secondary source, as it analyzes or interprets primary data. Option B (book) is usually secondary, unless it is an autobiography or original document. Option D (website) can contain primary or secondary information but is not inherently primary.

Conducting an interview directly gathers original data, making it a primary source. This question aligns with the Communication and Career Development category, emphasizing research and communication skills.

- A. disposable income
- B. supplementary income
- C. discretionary income
- D. passive income

Answer: C

Explanation:

Discretionary income is the money remaining after paying for necessities like housing, food, and clothing, available for non-essential spending. Option A (disposable income) is income after taxes, including money for necessities. Option C (supplementary income) is not a standard term. Option D (passive income) is earned without active work, like investments. This question aligns with the Accounting and Finance category, emphasizing personal finance.

- A. Revenue exceeds spending.
- B. Spending exceeds revenue.
- C. Revenue and spending are equal.
- D. Social welfare programs are expanding.

Answer: A

Explanation:

A budget surplus occurs when government revenue (e.g., taxes) exceeds spending. Option A (spending exceeds revenue) results in a deficit. Option C (equal revenue and spending) creates a balanced budget, not a surplus. Option D (expanding welfare programs) likely increases spending, not guaranteeing a surplus. This question aligns with the Economics category, emphasizing fiscal policy.

The depth and detail presented in a business plan will depend primarily on the

- A. amount of capital obtained
- B. experience of the entrepreneur
- C. target market of the new venture
- D. size and scope of the new venture

Answer: D

Explanation:

The depth and detail of a business plan are primarily determined by the size and scope of the new venture, as larger or more complex ventures require more comprehensive planning to address operational, financial, and market complexities. Option A (target market) influences the marketing section but not the overall plan's detail. Option B (entrepreneur's experience) may affect quality but not depth. Option D (capital obtained) is a result of the plan, not its determinant. This question aligns with the Entrepreneurship category, focusing on business planning.

Answer: A

Explanation:

Option C (part-time job) provides experience but is not curriculum-based. This question falls under the Professional Business Education category, emphasizing career preparation.
