NEW QUESTION # 53

Select the answer that correctly completes the sentence.

You can use dynamic groups in Azure Active Directory (Azure AD) to automate the _____ lifecycle process.

- access
- object
- privileged access

Answer:

Explanation:

You can use dynamic groups in Azure Active Directory (Azure AD) to automate the _____ lifecycle process.

- access
- object
- privileged access

Explanation:

access

In Microsoft Entra ID (formerly Azure AD), dynamic groups are a key feature used to automate the access lifecycle for users and devices. SCI learning material on identity governance explains that organizations can automate the access lifecycle process through technologies such as dynamic groups, alongside automated user provisioning. These resources describe the access lifecycle as managing a user's access to resources from the moment they join the organization, through role or department changes, until they leave. Dynamic groups help with this by using attribute-based rules (for example, department, job title, location, or device platform) to automatically add or remove identities from groups as their attributes change.

The other options do not match the terminology used in SCI content: "object lifecycle" is not the term used in Entra identity governance, and "privileged access" lifecycle is handled specifically by Privileged Identity Management (PIM), not by dynamic groups. Therefore, the sentence is correctly completed with access.
