HPE Networking Central Exam Sample Questions (Q46-Q51):

NEW QUESTION # 46

During testing of a new WPA3-Enterprise SSID, clients are failing to connect. Which should you verify first?

- A. Pre-shared key configuration
- B. EAP-TLS certificate configuration
- C. Captive portal configuration

Answer: B

Explanation:

WPA3-Enterprise relies on 802.1X authentication using EAP methods, and in many deployments EAP-TLS is used, which requires valid and trusted certificates on both client and authentication server side. If certificates are missing, invalid, or not trusted, clients will fail to authenticate and connect.

NEW QUESTION # 47

A customer needs consistent port configuration (Speed, Duplex, PoE, STP) on all access switches. Which configuration approach uses HPE Aruba Networking Central's intent-based model?

- A. Configure interfaces for every switch individually
- B. Create a Port Profile and assign it to applicable interfaces
- C. Apply a Global alias only without profile linkage

Answer: B

Explanation:

Port Profiles in HPE Aruba Networking Central implement an intent-based configuration model that allows standardized settings (such as speed, duplex, PoE, and STP behavior) to be defined once and consistently applied across multiple access switch interfaces. This ensures uniform configuration while reducing manual per-device effort and configuration drift.

NEW QUESTION # 48

A user reports frequent authentication failures. Which tool provides the most direct evidence?

- A. RF Health Overview
- B. Client Event Log

- C. AI Insights

Answer: B

Explanation:

The Client Event Log provides detailed, time-stamped authentication events, including failures, reasons, and retry behavior for individual users. This makes it the most direct source of evidence when diagnosing frequent authentication failures.

NEW QUESTION # 49

A guest SSID must isolate clients from internal networks. Which configuration achieves this?

- A. Use a mixed SSID where guests are bridged and employees are tunneled to the gateway
- B. Guest networks must belong to a separate VRF to ensure traffic isolation
- C. Assign a guest access role with restrictive policy

Answer: C

Explanation:

Assigning a guest access role with a restrictive policy enforces client isolation and limits access to internal resources. This role-based policy control is the standard method in HPE Aruba Networking Central to ensure guest users are restricted to internet-only access while being blocked from internal networks.

NEW QUESTION # 50

You need to interact with a remote device through a command-line interface. Which HPE Aruba Networking Central feature allows that?

- A. Template groups with multi-edit
- B. OOBM connection from the Troubleshoot page
- C. Remote Console service from the Troubleshoot page

Answer: C

The Remote Console service in the Troubleshoot page provides direct CLI access to managed devices, allowing administrators to execute commands and perform real-time diagnostics from HPE Aruba Networking Central.
