CompTIA Linux+ Certification Exam Sample Questions (Q11-Q16):

NEW QUESTION # 11
A DevOps engineer needs to create a local Git repository. Which of the following commands should the engineer use?

- A. git clone
- B. git add
- C. git config
- D. git init

Answer: D

Explanation:
The git init command initializes a new, empty Git repository in the current directory, making it the correct choice for creating a local repository.

NEW QUESTION # 12

A systems administrator needs to open the DNS TCP port on a Linux system from network 10.0.0.0/24.
Which of the following commands should the administrator use for this task?

- A. ufw disable from 10.0.0.0/24
- B. ufw allow dns/tcp to 10.0.0.0/24
- C. ufw allow 53/tcp from 10.0.0.0/24
- D. ufw enable 53/tcp from 10.0.0.0/24

Answer: C

Explanation:
Firewall configuration is a key topic in the Security domain of CompTIA Linux+ V8. DNS primarily uses UDP port 53, but TCP port 53 is also required for zone transfers, large responses, and certain reliability scenarios. In this case, the administrator explicitly needs to allow DNS over TCP from a specific network.
The correct command is ufw allow 53/tcp from 10.0.0.0/24. This rule allows incoming TCP traffic on port 53 only from the specified subnet, following the principle of least privilege. Linux+ V8 documentation emphasizes restricting firewall rules by source network whenever possible to minimize attack surfaces.
Option A is incorrect because UFW service aliases like dns are not always guaranteed to map explicitly to TCP, and the syntax is incomplete. Option B is invalid because ufw enable is used to enable the firewall globally and does not define rules. Option D disables firewall protections and introduces a major security risk.
Linux+ V8 best practices stress precise, minimal firewall rules instead of broad or disabling actions.
Therefore, C is the correct and secure choice.

NEW QUESTION # 13

A systems administrator is writing a script to analyze the number of files in the directory /opt/application
/home/. Which of the following commands should the administrator use in conjunction with ls -l | to count the files?

- A. tr -c
- B. less
- C. tail -f
- D. wc -l

Answer: D

Explanation:
Comprehensive and Detailed Explanation From Exact Extract:
wc -l counts the number of lines of input provided to it, which is commonly used to count the number of files when used with ls -l (excluding the header line). For example, ls -l /opt/application/home/ | wc -l gives the total count of lines, which corresponds to the number of files and directories (including the total line at the top).
Other options:
* A. less is a pager utility.
* B. tail -f shows the end of a file in real time.
* C. tr -c translates or deletes characters, not for counting lines.
