Real Estate Massachusetts Real Estate Salesperson Exam Sample Questions (Q45-Q50):

NEW QUESTION # 45

A tenant in a building that is being converted to condominiums is required to receive an opportunity to purchase the unit the tenant occupies at terms

- A. 20% less than that offered to the general public.
- B. 15% less than that offered to the general public.
- C. Equal to or better than that offered to the general public.
- D. At a monthly payment equal to the tenant's current monthly rent.

Answer: C

Explanation:

Under Massachusetts law (specifically M.G.L. c. 183A), tenants in properties being converted to condominiums are given the right of first refusal to purchase the unit they occupy. The offer must be made at terms that are equal to or better than those offered to the general public.

This ensures that tenants have the opportunity to buy their units at the same price or better terms than any outside buyers. This protection allows tenants the chance to remain in their homes as owners, rather than being displaced.

The law does not stipulate that the unit must be offered at a discount (such as 20% or 15% off); rather, the terms must be equal or more favorable than those available to others.

NEW QUESTION # 46

A buyer is considering a property in one of the subdivisions of a Planned Unit Development (PUD). The buyer noticed nearby properties having detached garages and workshops. The buyer mentions to their agent that they want to build a detached building on the back of the lot for a home business. There is an HOA for this subdivision. Additionally, there are overarching covenants, conditions, and restrictions (CC&Rs) for the PUD. What actions, if any, should be taken by the broker to assure the buyer can use the property as they wish?

- A. Recommend the buyer obtain the current CC&Rs and all current HOA documents.
- B. Determine if home business use is allowed in the subdivision.
- C. Recommend the buyer determine if architectural review requirements exist for the subdivision.
- D. Take no action because other properties have detached buildings.

Answer: A

Explanation:

In a Planned Unit Development (PUD), buyers are subject to both subdivision-level rules (via HOAs) and overarching covenants, conditions, and restrictions (CC&Rs) that govern the entire development. Even if other neighbors have similar structures, this does not guarantee that new construction or business use will be allowed.

The broker's role is to protect the buyer's interests by ensuring they review all current CC&Rs and HOA governing documents.

These documents will reveal architectural review requirements, use restrictions (including home businesses), and other limitations.

The broker should not assume permissibility based on observation alone.

Thus, the best and legally correct advice is D.

NEW QUESTION # 47

A seller informs the listing broker that the wind chime on the back door is broken and the roof leaks when it rains. The listing broker is required to disclose

- A. Both the wind chime and the leaky roof.
- B. Nothing.
- C. The leaky roof.
- D. The wind chime.

Answer: C

Explanation:

Massachusetts law requires real estate licensees to disclose material defects of which they are aware. A material defect is any condition that would significantly affect the health, safety, or value of the property. In this case, a leaky roof is considered a material defect because it can cause substantial property damage, affect habitability, and impact property value.

On the other hand, a broken wind chime is a minor cosmetic defect that does not materially affect the property's value or use. Licensees are not required to disclose trivial issues but must disclose known material defects even if instructed by the seller to remain silent. Failure to disclose material defects constitutes misrepresentation and may result in disciplinary action. NEW QUESTION # 48

If a deed creating a tenancy in common does NOT state the fractional interest of each co-owner, it

- A. becomes a joint tenancy.
- B. must be determined by a majority vote of the tenants.
- C. is void.
- D. is presumed each owner has an equal interest.

Answer: D

Explanation:

In tenancy in common, two or more individuals hold title together, each with an undivided right to possess the property. The co-owners may hold unequal shares, but unless otherwise specified in the deed, the law presumes equal ownership interests. For example, if three people take title as tenants in common without specifying percentages, Massachusetts law assumes they each own one-third. The deed is not void (A), fractional shares are not decided by "vote" (C), and tenancy in common does not convert into joint tenancy (D) unless explicitly stated with survivorship rights.

Thus, the correct answer is B: presumed equal interest.

The ranch house is most likely to sell for around

- A. $147,500
- B. $123,500
- C. $148,500
