Sample Questions (Q62-Q67):

NEW QUESTION # 62

At Universal Containers, a dashboard is built to track sales metrics. The Opportunity amount field has conditional formatting added - it turns green for closed won and red for closed lost.

How should a CRM Analytics consultant enhance the dashboard design to become more accessible to users with color vision challenges?

- A. Position Alt Texts next to the KPIs to make it more understandable.
- B. Add up and down arrow next to the KPIs to make it more understandable.
- C. Make the numbers bold to emphasize whether it is won or lost.

Answer: B

Explanation:

Enhancing accessibility, especially for users with color vision challenges, is critical. Adding up and down arrows next to the KPIs:

* Visual Cues: Provides a non-color dependent method to indicate whether metrics are positive (up arrow) or negative (down arrow).

* Accessibility: Improves understanding for users with color vision deficiencies, ensuring that the dashboard is inclusive.

* User Experience: Enhances the overall usability of the dashboard by making the interpretation of data straightforward and less reliant on color.

NEW QUESTION # 63

The marketing team at Cloud Kicks has five dashboards in an app. Four widgets are replicas of each other in three of the dashboards.

What is the best way to maintain these widgets?

- A. Create/Edit a lens and add each dashboard.
- B. Create/Edit the widgets individually on each dashboard.
- C. Create/Edit a component for the widgets.

Answer: C

Explanation:

To maintain consistency and ease of updates across multiple dashboards, creating or editing a component for the widgets is the most effective method. This approach:

Efficiency in Updates: Allows changes to be made in one place, which automatically propagates to all instances where the component is used across dashboards.

Consistency: Ensures uniformity in the appearance and functionality of the widgets across different dashboards.

Simplicity: Reduces the need for redundant work, where each widget would otherwise need to be updated individually.

NEW QUESTION # 64

CRM Analytics team plans to enable data sync.

Which limit specific to data sync should the team consider before enabling the feature because it may impact existing jobs?

- A. Maximum number of objects that can be enabled for data sync
- B. Maximum number of Full Sync connection mode enabled
- C. Maximum number of data sync jobs cannot exceed the limit

Answer: A

Explanation:

In CRM Analytics, when planning to enable data sync, one of the critical considerations is the limit on the number of objects that can be enabled for data sync. This limit is essential because it determines how many different Salesforce objects (like Accounts, Opportunities, etc.) can be synchronized concurrently. Exceeding this limit could impact the performance of existing sync jobs or prevent new sync jobs from being configured.

Key points to consider include:

* Performance Impact: Syncing too many objects simultaneously can lead to increased load times and potential delays in data availability, impacting users' ability to access up-to-date information.

* Resource Allocation: CRM Analytics allocates resources based on the number of objects being synchronized, and there are practical limits to these resources to ensure stable and efficient operation. For a more detailed understanding and to manage these limits effectively, Salesforce provides documentation and guidelines within the CRM Analytics resources, which can be further explored in the Trailhead modules specifically focusing on data management and synchronization practices.

NEW QUESTION # 65

A CRM Analytics consultant wants to move a dataflow to a recipe in order to use aggregation nodes. To do so, they use the Dataflow to Recipe convertor and the recipe runs successfully. However, they are unable to see the aggregated data in the dataset. What is causing the issue?

- A. The convertor has created a new dataset with a new ID.
- B. The recipe has to be turned off and only the dataflow should run.
- C. The dataflow has to be turned off and only the recipe should run.

Answer: A

NEW QUESTION # 66

Cloud Kicks has informed CRM Analytics developers that they have two scenarios with restricted row-level security. The parameters being:

1. Non-CXOs and VPs working in EMEA can have access to EMEA records only.
2. CXOs and VPs should have access to all data irrespective of the region (APAC, EMEA, etc.).

Which sharing method works for this scenario?

- A. Use a field on the user record like Department/Region, and apply row-level security based on that field.
- B. Create two separate datasets; one for EMEA, and one for CXOs and VPs.
- C. Create two sets of dashboards; one for EMEA, and one for CXOs and VPs while filtering the dashboard on the region.

Answer: A

Explanation:

For Cloud Kicks' requirements regarding access to data based on roles and geographic regions, the most efficient and scalable approach is to implement row-level security using fields on the user record, like Department or Region. Here's the rationale for choosing this approach:

* Scalability and Maintenance: By applying security rules based on user record fields, Cloud Kicks can manage access dynamically without needing to maintain multiple dashboards or datasets. This reduces administrative overhead and simplifies updates as roles or regional structures change.

* Flexibility: Using a field on the user record to control access allows for easy expansion or modification of security policies as new regions or roles are added.

* Simplicity: This method ensures a clear and straightforward security model that can be easily audited and understood by administrators and compliance teams.
