ACAMS Certified Global Sanctions Specialist Sample Questions (Q42-Q47):

NEW QUESTION # 42

A bank is offering a credit line for a trade transaction to a commercial client that is based in a country that shares its border with a sanctioned country. To which should a financial institution apply enhanced due diligence? (Select Two.)

- A. The pricing of the goods to see if they are reasonably in line with market value, determined through publicly available sources.
- B. The ultimate beneficial owners of the exporter and importer.
- C. The commercial terms of the credit to ensure the terms are not prohibited under Sectoral Sanctions' extension of debit or credit arrangements.
- D. Public domain searches of the client to confirm the client's industry.
- E. The shipment details because there are countries subject to international sanctions in the client's region.

Answer: B,E

Explanation:

Enhanced due diligence is required when trade transactions involve jurisdictions near sanctioned countries due to the increased risk of transshipment, diversion, and sanctions evasion.

Sanctions and Compliance Domains highlight two core focus areas:

- * verifying the identities and ultimate beneficial owners of all involved parties, and
- * validating the shipment details, including routing, goods description, and movement patterns.

These elements are critical where geographic proximity raises sanctions exposure. While reviewing commercial terms and pricing may be part of general trade finance due diligence, the primary sanctions-specific EDD requirements focus on beneficial ownership and shipment details.

Reference from Sanctions and Compliance Domains:

Enhanced due diligence expectations for trade involving high-risk regions.

Requirements to verify UBOs to detect potential sanctioned ownership.

Importance of shipment route verification to detect diversion to sanctioned jurisdictions.

NEW QUESTION # 43

According to OFSI, financial sanctions can be imposed with the following purposes, except:

- A. Signal disapproval, stigmatizing and potentially isolating a regime or individual
- B. Constrain a target by denying them access to key resources needed to continue their offending behavior
- C. Coerce a regime, or individuals within a regime, into changing their behavior
- D. Increase the value of assets that have been misappropriated from a country until these assets can be repatriated
- E. Protect the value of assets that have been misappropriated from a country until these assets can be repatriated

Answer: D

NEW QUESTION # 44

"Al-Falah Company", registered in Dubai, wants to open an account at a financial institution. Through due diligence, the compliance team finds out that "El-Fallah Investments", based in Iraq, is under UN sanctions for facilitating terrorism financing. The listed Chief Executive Officer (CEO) of the sanctioned entity is not the same as the CEO of the potential client. How should the compliance team proceed?

- A. There is insufficient reason to escalate the case for further investigation and the client can be onboarded.
- B. There are enough similarities to pursue further investigation before a decision can be made.
- C. This is a near match, thus the client should only be onboarded depending on the financial institution's risk appetite.
- D. The potential client should not be onboarded and the regulator must be notified.

Answer: B

Explanation:

Sanctions and Compliance Domains state that when entities share similar names, regions, or other characteristics with a sanctioned party - even when executive leadership differs - the institution must perform enhanced due diligence to rule out affiliation, ownership, or control links.

The similarity in names ("Al-Falah" vs. "El-Fallah"), geographic proximity, and the involvement of UN-sanctioned terrorism-related activity require deeper investigation. Compliance teams must confirm corporate records, ownership structure, purpose, and possible indirect connections before making a determination.

Automatic rejection is premature without evidence. Onboarding without further investigation is inappropriate.

Reference:

Name similarity and geographic proximity as sanctions escalation triggers.

Requirements for enhanced due diligence when possible indirect links exist.
