VMware Advanced VMware Cloud Foundation 9.0 Automation Sample Questions (Q20-Q25):

NEW QUESTION # 20

An administrator is tasked to enable VMware Cloud Foundation (VCF) Automation to run ABX actions. What must be configured?

- A. Create a cloud account in the Organization Portal.
- B. Create a region in an AllApps Organization.
- C. Create a project in an AllApps Organization.
- D. Create a cloud account in the Provider Management Portal.

Answer: D

Explanation:

Action-Based Extensibility (ABX) requires a functional management plane connection to execute scripts against the infrastructure. In VCF 9.0, the foundation for all automation tasks-including ABX-is the Cloud Account. The administrator must Create a cloud account in the Provider Management Portal to establish the primary connection between the VCF Automation appliance and the underlying vCenter/NSX endpoints.

While individual organizations can have their own accounts, the core extensibility engine (which runs the serverless containers for ABX) relies on the provider-level account to identify where and how to execute scripts across the fleet. Without a valid Cloud Account, the ABX service has no target for resource discovery or event-triggered logic, rendering the extensibility framework non-functional for both provider and tenant organizations.

NEW QUESTION # 21

In VMware Cloud Foundation (VCF) Automation, which construct within an AllApps organization consists of one or more Supervisors and supplies compute, memory, storage, and network resources to the organization?

- A. Region
- B. Project
- C. Cloud Zone
- D. Cloud Account

Answer: A

Explanation:

In the architectural framework of VCF 9.0's AllApps (AllApps) organization, the Region is the fundamental resource provider construct. A Region represents a logical grouping of one or more vSphere Supervisor clusters that share a common NSX Manager instance. It is at the Region level that the cloud provider discovers and identifies the available infrastructure capacity-including Kubernetes namespaces, VM classes, and storage policies-that can then be allocated to a tenant organization. When an administrator creates a Region in the Provider Management Portal, they are effectively defining a "pool" of resources that spans physical workload domains, allowing the automation engine to intelligently place workloads across different Supervisors as needed. While a Project is used for user-level resource entitlement and a Cloud Zone is used in the older VMApps model, the Region is the mandatory infrastructure anchor for any modern AllApps organization seeking to consume Supervisor-based services in VCF 9.0.

NEW QUESTION # 22

A VMware Cloud Foundation (VCF) Automation administrator is creating a new organization for the Product Development team. The developers require self-service networking that allows them to:

- * Provision workloads with virtual machines (VMs) and Kubernetes services.
- * Attach these workloads to VPCs.
- * Customize how ingress and egress traffic is handled.

Which configuration meets the requirement?

- A. Create an AllApps Organization and assign multiple vSphere-backed networks for consumers to select as needed.
- B. Create a VMApps Organization and assign multiple vSphere-backed networks for consumers to select as needed.
- C. Create an AllApps Organization and use the default VPC with VPC connectivity profiles.

- D. Create a VMApps Organization and use the default VPC with VPC connectivity profiles.

Answer: C

Explanation:

To meet the requirement for self-service networking that supports both VMs and Kubernetes (K8s) within a VPC framework, the administrator must deploy an AllApps Organization. In VCF 9.0, the VMApps model is restricted to traditional vSphere-backed networking and does not support the native VPC construct required by the team. By choosing AllApps, the administrator can utilize the Default VPC provided during the Region- to-Organization mapping. This VPC is governed by VPC Connectivity Profiles, which allow the administrator to define how the organization handles traffic—for instance, allowing the development team to manage their own SNAT/DNAT rules and load balancers for ingress control while maintaining the security guardrails set by the provider. This specific combination of the AllApps Organization type and VPC-centric networking is the only way to provide the requested level of flexibility for "modern" developers who need to manage their own application networking stack alongside their containerized and virtualized services.

NEW QUESTION # 23

An administrator must initiate the deployment of a new 3-tier application architecture using the VMware Cloud Foundation (VCF) Automation portal. This application includes:

- * A web tier (stateless).
- * A business logic tier (some local caching).
- * A database tier (stateful, PostgreSQL).
- * An NSX load balancer fronting the web tier.
- * ~99.9% uptime requirement.
- * Moderate performance requirements.

Which requirement represents a risk inherent to single-zone deployments?

- A. A higher network complexity.
- B. A shared failure domain for all application tiers.
- C. A split-brain isolation.
- D. A higher latency between application tiers.

Answer: B

Explanation:

The primary architectural risk in any single-zone deployment within VCF 9.0 is the existence of a shared failure domain. In a single-zone Supervisor cluster or workload domain, all components—including the web, application, and database tiers—reside within the same logical and often physical infrastructure boundary (such as a single rack or data center room). If the underlying zone experiences a critical failure, such as a localized power outage, cooling failure, or a total top-of-rack switch collapse, the entire 3-tier application stack will go offline simultaneously. For mission-critical applications requiring high availability, VCF 9.0 recommends a multi-zone or stretched cluster architecture. In such designs, the failure of one zone does not compromise the entire application because the tiers can be distributed across different fault domains, ensuring that the stateless web tier and stateful database remain operational elsewhere. In the context of the 99.9% uptime requirement mentioned, a single-zone design represents a significant risk because it lacks the redundancy needed to survive zone-level disruptions.

NEW QUESTION # 24

An administrator is responsible for managing a VMware Cloud Foundation (VCF) fleet and the administrator has been tasked with the following:

- * Create DNS records before each virtual machine (VM) is deployed using VCF Automation.

The administrator has already completed the following tasks:

- * Created two VCF Operations Orchestrator Workflows with corresponding Event Subscriptions:
- * Create DNS Record
- * Delete DNS Record
- * Created a new blueprint to deploy a VM:
- * Added two string inputs, hostname and domainName
- * Added hostname: '$ {input.hostname}' as a custom property of the Virtual Machine resource.
- * Added domainName: '$ {input.domainName}' as a custom property of the Virtual Machine resource.

What should the administrator configure within the Event subscription to ensure that the DNS record is only created when the hostname is provided?

- A. Add the event.data.customproperties['domainName'] != null condition to the Create DNS Record and Delete DNS Record subscriptions.
- B. Enable the Block execution of events in topic option in the Create DNS Record and Delete DNS Record subscriptions.
- C. Add the Delete DNS Record workflow as the Recovery Workflow of the Create DNS Record subscription.
- D. Add the event.data.customproperties['hostname'] != null condition to the Create DNS Record and Delete DNS Record subscriptions.

Answer: D

Explanation:

VCF Automation 9.0 utilizes an Event Broker Service (EBS) to trigger extensibility workflows during the lifecycle of a deployment. For a DNS integration to function correctly and reliably, the event subscription must be "scoped" to prevent it from firing when essential metadata is missing. In this scenario, the administrator has mapped the user input hostname to a custom property of the virtual machine. By adding the condition event.data.customproperties['hostname'] != null to the subscription, the platform evaluates the payload before invoking the Operations Orchestrator workflow. If the consumer leaves the hostname field empty (assuming it is not marked as mandatory in the blueprint), the condition will evaluate to false, and the DNS creation workflow will not be triggered, preventing "empty" or invalid records from being sent to the DNS provider. This logic must be applied to both the creation and deletion subscriptions to maintain parity throughout the VM's lifecycle. Using the customproperties array within the event.data payload is the standard method for referencing blueprint-specific inputs within the VCF 9.0 extensibility framework.
