NEW QUESTION # 77

When dealing with glass door racks, cool air is injected into the rack from:

- A. The rear door in a downflow direction.
- B. The top of the rack through the fans and vents mounted inside the rack.
- C. The bottom of the rack.
- D. The front door in a downflow direction.

Answer: A

Explanation:

Glass door racks are a type of rack that have solid glass front doors and rear door heat exchangers (RDHx).

RDHx are devices that use facility coolant to absorb heat from the exhaust air of the IT equipment and return cool air to the room. RDHx can be either passive or active, depending on the fan configuration. In general, IT hardware within the rack is air-cooled and the door heat exchanger uses facility coolant to absorb heat from exhaust air to return air to the facility at or near inlet air temperature to the rack. This rear door heat exchanger can either be a passive or active solution. When dealing with glass door racks, cool air is injected into the rack from the rear door in a downflow direction. This means that the cool air flows from the top to the bottom of the rack, following the natural convection of the hot air rising. This way, the cool air can reach all the IT equipment in the rack and prevent hot spots or overheating.

- A. Pro-inert
- B. Total Flooding
- C. Water sprinkler
- D. Inergen

Answer: C

NEW QUESTION # 79

What is a requirement of an FM200 (HFC-227) installation?

- A. It is a high-pressure gas; therefore nozzles must be mounted with two brackets.
- B. Drainage system under the raised floor.
- C. Install the gas containers (tanks) close to the data centre.
- D. Install pre-action sprinklers in the same room as the FM200.

Answer: A

Explanation:

FM200 (HFC-227) is a clean agent fire suppression system that uses a high-pressure gas to extinguish fires by reducing the oxygen concentration and absorbing the heat. FM200 is stored in cylinders at pressures of up to 42 bar (600 psi) and is released through nozzles into the protected area. Because of the high pressure, the nozzles must be mounted with two brackets to prevent them from moving or breaking during discharge. The brackets must be securely attached to the ceiling or wall and aligned with the nozzle outlet. The nozzle outlet must also be free of any obstructions that could affect the discharge pattern or distribution.

NEW QUESTION # 80

Which one of the following is a Natural Disaster?

- A. Hurricanes
- B. Grid Failure
- C. Blackouts
- D. Human Error

Answer: A

Explanation:

According to the CDCP® Preparation Guide, a natural disaster is a catastrophic event that is caused by natural forces and has a significant impact on human lives, property, and environment. Hurricanes are examples of natural disasters, as they are powerful storms that form over warm ocean waters and produce strong winds, heavy rain, storm surges, and flooding. Grid failure, blackouts, and human error are not natural disasters, but rather man-made or technological disasters that result from failures or errors in human systems or activities.

NEW QUESTION # 81

When referring to the internal mounting space in racks, equipment manufacturers generally refer to standardized height of electronic modules "U" or "RU". What is the height of 1 "U" or "RU"?

- A. 1.75 inches (4.445 cm)
- B. 3.5 inches (8.9 cm)
- C. 24 inches (80 cm)
- D. 19 inches (60 cm)

Answer: A

Explanation:

According to the Certified Data Centre Professional (CDCP) Reference Materials, the height of 1 "U" (rack unit) or "RU" (rack unit) is standardized at 1.75 inches, which is equivalent to 44.45 millimeters or 4.445 centimeters. This unit of measurement is globally used to define the internal mounting space in IT and telecommunications racks. Equipment manufacturers specify their devices' height based on how many "U" the device occupies (for example, a 2U server is 3.5 inches high). The standardization ensures interoperability and planning efficiency within the data center environment.

The "U" (rack unit) system is essential for ensuring that racks and equipment from different manufacturers will fit together properly, facilitating modularity, expansion, and maintenance. The 1.75-inch specification is defined by several industry standards including EIA-310 and is referenced directly in the EPI CDCP training and its official exam preparation guides.
