Some of the nodes contain only 3 data points. The AUC of the model is 0.85.
What is your evaluation of this model?

- A. The tree did not split on all the input variables. You need a larger data set to get a more accurate model.
- B. The AUC is high, and the small nodes are all very pure. This is an accurate model.
- C. The AUC is high, so the overall model is accurate. It is not well-calibrated, because the small nodes will give poor estimates of probability.
