CompTIA Cloud+ (CV0-004) Certification Exam Sample Questions (Q308-Q313):

NEW QUESTION # 308

A customer relationship management application, which is hosted in a public cloud IaaS network, is vulnerable to a remote command execution vulnerability. Which of the following is the best solution for the security engineer to implement to prevent the application from being exploited by basic attacks?

- A. ACL
- B. WAF
- C. IPS
- D. DLP

Answer: B

Explanation:

A Web Application Firewall (WAF) is the best solution to implement for a public cloud IaaS hosted customer relationship management application vulnerable to remote command execution attacks. WAFs are designed to monitor, filter, and block malicious HTTP/S traffic to and from a web application to protect against various application layer attacks, including remote command execution. NEW QUESTION # 309

A company uses two mobile applications. Application A is used in the United States market, and Application B is used in the European Union market with GDPR restrictions. Both applications must comply with PCI standards. The company is consolidating both mobile applications into a single application and must standardize its database back-end system. Which of the following is the best option to provision the database for the consolidated mobile application?

- A. Deploying one global database across multiple regions
- B. Implementing two databases in two different regions
- C. Using two databases in the same region with different access controls
- D. Provisioning one database in one region with separate IAM permissions

Answer: B

Explanation:

The consolidated application must comply with both PCI requirements and GDPR regulations.

GDPR imposes restrictions on where EU personal data is stored and processed. Implementing two databases in different regions allows EU data to remain within an appropriate region while supporting the United States market separately. This approach helps meet data residency and regulatory requirements while maintaining compliance for both markets.

NEW QUESTION # 310

A company that has several branches worldwide needs to facilitate full access to a specific cloud resource to a branch in Spain. Other branches will have only read access. Which of the following is the best way to grant access to the branch in Spain?

- A. Apply a rule on the WAF to allow only users in Spain access to the resource.
- B. Set up MFA for the users working at the branch.
- C. Create a network security group with required permissions for users in Spain.
- D. Implement an IPS/IDS to detect unauthorized users.

Answer: C

Explanation:

The best way to grant full access to a specific cloud resource to a branch in Spain, while other branches have only read access, is to create a network security group with the required permissions. This group can be configured to allow full access to users within the branch's IP range while restricting others to read-only access. NEW QUESTION # 311

Five thousand employees always access the company's public cloud-hosted web application on a daily basis during the same time frame. Some users have been reporting performance issues while attempting to connect to the web application. Which of the following is the best configuration approach to resolve this issue?

- A. Scale vertically based on a trend.
- B. Scale vertically based on a load.
- C. Scale horizontally based on a schedule
- D. Scale horizontally based on an event

Answer: C

Explanation:

Scaling horizontally means adding more instances of the application or servers to handle increased traffic, rather than increasing the resources (CPU, memory) of a single server (which would be vertical scaling). Since the performance issues occur during a specific, predictable time frame every day, scaling horizontally based on a schedule would ensure that additional resources are available when needed, improving performance without waiting for a load threshold to be reached.

NEW QUESTION # 312

Which of the following is the most cost-effective compute service to deploy a service that will be infrequently used but will require fast response times?

- A. Container
- B. Virtual machine
- C. Edge
- D. Serverless

Answer: D

Explanation:

Serverless compute is billed only when the code runs, making it highly cost-effective for infrequent workloads while still providing extremely fast response times due to automatic scaling and event-driven execution.
