ISQI IREB Certified Professional for Requirements Engineering. Foundation Level Sample Questions (Q104-Q109):

NEW QUESTION # 104
All the following are general documentation guidelines, EXCEPT:

- A. Select a work product type aligned with the intended purpose.
- B. Avoid inconsistencies by repeating the same content throughout the document.
- C. Structure work products accordingly (e.g., using standard structures).
- D. Use terms as defined in the glossary.

Answer: B

Explanation:
Comprehensive and Detailed Explanation From Exact Extract:
The handbook recommends choosing documentation forms that match purpose-formal specs for contracts, user stories for agile backlogs, etc.-and encourages consistent structure using standard templates or reference models. It also insists on using glossary terms to prevent ambiguity. However, repeating the same content in multiple places is discouraged because redundancy quickly leads to inconsistencies when updates are made. Instead, authors should reference existing sections rather than duplicate them. Therefore B is not a recommended guideline and is the correct "EXCEPT" option.

NEW QUESTION # 105
Requirements conflict resolution is considered to be part of which major RE task?

- A. Documentation
- B. Elicitation
- C. Management
- D. Validation

Answer: B

Explanation:
Comprehensive and Detailed Explanation From Exact Extract:
According to the CPRE syllabus, Requirements Engineering comprises four major tasks: elicitation, documentation, validation and management. Elicitation is not just "collecting" requirements; it also includes dealing with conflicts that emerge when different stakeholders express incompatible needs, expectations or priorities. Conflict analysis, negotiation and resolution are therefore components of elicitation activities.
Validation focuses on checking correctness and quality of documented requirements, while management handles versioning, traceability and change control. Documentation is about representing requirements in suitable forms. Thus, conflict resolution is explicitly placed under elicitation.

NEW QUESTION # 106
A linear, explorative and customer-specific RE process is called:

- A. Product-Oriented RE Process
- B. Contractual RE Process
- C. Participatory RE Process
- D. All the other options are wrong.

Answer: D

NEW QUESTION # 107
You are project manager for a system that your company is creating for the military in the field of logistics. A requirements engineer has been assigned to your project but does not have all the desirable skills for this role.

In respect to the attributes of the requirements engineer, which of the following statements implies the greatest risk for the requirements engineering? (1 Point)

- A. The requirements engineer has no solid project management training.
- B. The requirements engineer is introverted and has no knowledge of requirements elicitation and documentation.
- C. The requirements engineer does not have detailed knowledge of the military norms and standards that should be applied to the system.
- D. The requirements engineer is not familiar with the military ranks and so cannot deal adequately with the hierarchical sensitivities.

Answer: B
