NEW QUESTION # 83

In the context of UiPath selectors, what is an anchor?

- A. An anchor is a nearby element that helps to uniquely identify the target element.
- B. A selector that takes into account possible changes in the attributes of an element, identifying them based on a pattern, rather than on an exact match

- C. An XML fragment that stores the attributes of an element and its parent elements, including the target application
- D. An image in the application window that identifies the element, for example an icon or a button

Answer: A

Explanation:

In UiPath, an anchor is used in conjunction with selectors to improve the accuracy of identifying UI elements within an application. When a selector is not reliable due to dynamic content or changing layouts, an anchor-a stable element nearby the target-can be used to pinpoint the target element with greater precision. The anchor serves as a point of reference, and the relative position of the target element to this anchor is used to identify it during automation tasks¹.

- D. Is a document that outlines only the exceptions of a particular test
