NEW QUESTION # 13

Which statement applies to a single sign-on (SSO) deployment on FortiSASE?

- A. SSO identity providers can be integrated using public and private access types.
- B. SSO is recommended only for agent-based deployments.
- C. SSO users can be imported into FortiSASE and added to user groups.
- D. SSO overrides any other previously configured user authentication.

Answer: C

Explanation:

In a Single Sign-On (SSO) deployment on FortiSASE, SSO users can be imported into FortiSASE and added to user groups . This allows administrators to manage SSO users within FortiSASE, enabling them to apply policies, permissions, and group-based access controls. By integrating SSO with FortiSASE, organizations can streamline user authentication and simplify access management while maintaining security.

Here's why the other options are incorrect:

A . SSO overrides any other previously configured user authentication: This is incorrect because SSO does not automatically override other authentication methods. FortiSASE supports multiple authentication mechanisms, and SSO is just one of them. Administrators can configure fallback authentication methods if needed.

B . SSO identity providers can be integrated using public and private access types: While FortiSASE supports integration with various identity providers (e.g., SAML, LDAP, OAuth), the concept of "public and private access types" is not applicable to SSO configurations.

C . SSO is recommended only for agent-based deployments: This is incorrect because SSO can be used in both agent-based and agentless deployments. It is not limited to environments where agents are installed.

NEW QUESTION # 14

When you configure FortiSASE Secure Private Access (SPA) with SD-WAN integration, you must establish a routing adjacency between FortiSASE and the FortiGate SD-WAN hub. Which routing protocol must you use?

- A. EIGRP
- B. IS-IS
- C. BGP
- D. OSPF

Answer: C

Explanation:

When configuring FortiSASE Secure Private Access (SPA) with SD-WAN integration, establishing a routing adjacency between FortiSASE and the FortiGate SD-WAN hub requires the use of the Border Gateway Protocol (BGP).

BGP (Border Gateway Protocol):

BGP is widely used for establishing routing adjacencies between different networks, particularly in SD-WAN environments.

It provides scalability and flexibility in managing dynamic routing between FortiSASE and the FortiGate SD-WAN hub.

Routing Adjacency:

BGP enables the exchange of routing information between FortiSASE and the FortiGate SD-WAN hub. This ensures optimal routing paths and efficient traffic management across the hybrid network.
