ASIS Physical Security Professional Exam Sample Questions (Q302-Q307):

NEW QUESTION # 302

The three keys to a successful contact are:

- A. accessibility, meetings and resource management
- B. accessibility, reviews and resource management
- C. measurement, meetings and resource management
- D. accessibility, meetings and performance

Answer: A

Explanation:

The three keys to a successful contract or partnership in the context of security management are:

Accessibility: Open communication and availability between parties.

Meetings: Regular reviews and check-ins to ensure alignment.

Resource Management: Efficient allocation and use of both personnel and technical resources.

These three elements contribute to maintaining accountability, service quality, and responsiveness between the security provider and client.

NEW QUESTION # 303

Unintentional access to software code is referred to as:

- A. Bomb
- B. Trojan Horse
- C. Trapdoor
- D. Backdoor

Answer: C

Explanation:

A trapdoor (also known as a backdoor) is a hidden method used by developers or attackers to bypass normal authentication or access controls in software. However, in technical distinction, a "trapdoor" refers more to unintentional or overlooked access, while "backdoor" is often intentional. For this question, since it emphasizes "unintentional access," trapdoor is the best fit.

Bomb (A): Refers to logic bombs-malicious code triggered by specific conditions.

Backdoor (C): Usually intentionally left in place by developers or attackers.

Trojan Horse (D): Malware disguised as legitimate software.
