Salesforce Platform Developer II Sample Questions (Q12-Q17):

NEW QUESTION # 12

Consider the queries in the options below and the following information:

- * For these queries, assume that there are more than 200,000 Account records.
 - * These records include soft-deleted records in the Recycle Bin.
 - * There are two fields marked as External Id: Customer_Number__c and ERP_Key__c.
- Which two queries are optimized for large data volumes?

- A. `SELECT Id FROM Account WHERE Name != NULL`
- B. `SELECT Id FROM Account WHERE Id IN :aListVariable`
- C. `SELECT Id FROM Account WHERE Name != " AND IsDeleted = false`
- D. `SELECT Id FROM Account WHERE Name != " AND Customer_Number__c = 'ValueA'`

Answer: B,D

Explanation:

When querying Large Data Volumes (LDV), Salesforce relies on the Query Optimizer to decide if an index can be used. A query is considered "optimized" or "selective" if it uses an indexed field in the WHERE clause and filters the result set below a specific threshold (typically 10% of the first million records).

Option A is optimized because it filters on Customer_Number__c, which is marked as an External ID.

Salesforce automatically creates a custom index for any field marked as an External ID or Unique. Even though the query also includes a non-selective filter (Name != ""), the presence of the indexed External ID field allows the optimizer to perform an index scan rather than a full table scan.

Option D is optimized because it filters by the Id field using the IN operator. The Id field is the primary key and is always indexed. Filtering by a collection of IDs is one of the most efficient ways to retrieve records in a large environment.

Options B and C are not optimized. IsDeleted is not an indexed field, and the Query Optimizer generally ignores IsDeleted = false filters when calculating selectivity. Filtering for Name != NULL or Name != " (Option C) is considered a "negative" filter and typically results in a full table scan because it does not narrow the search results enough to utilize an index efficiently.

NEW QUESTION # 13

A developer is writing a Visualforce page that queries accounts in the system and presents a data table with the results. The users want to be able to filter the results based on up to five fields. However, the users want to pick the five fields to use as filter fields when they run the page.

Which Apex code feature is required to facilitate solution?

- A. Streaming API
- B. Report API
- C. Dynamic SOQL
- D. Dynamic variable binding

Answer: D

NEW QUESTION # 14

A developer is writing code that requires making callouts to an external web service.

Which scenario necessitates that the callout be made in an @future method?

- A. The callout could take longer than 60 seconds to complete.
- B. The callouts will be made in an Apex Test class.
- C. Over 10 callouts will be made in a single transaction.
- D. The callouts will be made in an Apex Trigger.

Answer: D

NEW QUESTION # 15

A company has a custom object, Order__c, that has a custom picklist field, Status__c, with values of New/ 'In Progress/ or 'Fulfilled' and a lookup field, Contact__c, to Contact.

Which SOQL query will return a unique list of all the Contact records that have no 'Fulfilled' Orders?

A)

B)

C)

D)

- A. option
- B. option
- C. option
- D. option

Answer: D

NEW QUESTION # 16

A developer created a class that implements the Queueable Interface, as follows:

Java

public class without sharing OrderQueueableJob implements Queueable { public void execute(QueueableContext context) {
        // implementation logic
        System.enqueueJob(new FollowUpJob());

As part of the deployment process, the developer is asked to create a corresponding test class. Which two actions should the developer take to successfully execute the test class?

- A. Ensure the running user of the test class has, at least, the View All permission on the Order object.
- B. Implement seeAllData=true to ensure the Queueable job is able to run in bulk mode.2
- C. Enclose System.enqueueJob(new OrderQueueableJob()) within Test.startTest and Test.stopTest().
- D. Implement Test.isRunningTest() to prevent chaining jobs during test execution.

Answer: C,D

Explanation:

Testing asynchronous Apex, such as the Queueable interface, requires specific handling to ensure the job actually executes during the test run and adheres to platform limits.

First, Salesforce enforces a strict limit on chaining Queueable jobs during unit tests. Specifically, you cannot chain jobs (enqueue a job from another job) within a test. Since the OrderQueueableJob attempts to enqueue FollowUpJob, the test will throw an error. To resolve this, the developer should use Test.isRunningTest() (Option B) within the execute method to conditionally bypass the System.enqueueJob call during test runs.

Second, asynchronous jobs are queued by the system and do not run immediately. To force the execution of a Queueable job so that results can be asserted, the System.enqueueJob call must be wrapped within Test. startTest() and Test.stopTest() (Option D). When Test.stopTest() is called, the execution pauses until all queued asynchronous jobs in that block finish running.

Option A is incorrect because seeAllData does not affect asynchronous processing modes. Option C is incorrect because the class is defined as without sharing, meaning it bypasses sharing rules regardless of the running user's permissions. By combining recursion/chaining guards and the startTest/stopTest block, the developer can reliably test the logic within the execute method.
