Adobe Commerce Developer Professional Sample Questions (Q82-Q87):

NEW QUESTION # 82

An Adobe Commerce developer is tasked with adding custom data to orders fetched from the API. While keeping best practices in mind, how would the developer achieve this?

- A. Create an extension attribute on `Magento\Sales\Api\Data\OrderInterface` and an after plugin on `Magento\Sales\Model\Order::getExtensionAttributes()` to add the custom data.
- B. Create a before plugin on `Magento\Sales\Model\ResourceModel\Order\Collection::load` and alter the query to fetch the additional data. Data will then be automatically added to the items fetched from the API.
- C. Create an extension attribute on `Magento\Sales\Api\Data\OrderInterface` and an after plugin on `Magento\Sales\Api\OrderRepositoryInterface::get` and `getList` to add the custom data.

Answer: C

Explanation:

The developer should create an extension attribute on the `Magento\Sales\Api\Data\OrderInterface` interface and an after plugin on the `\Magento\Sales\Api\OrderRepositoryInterface::get()` and `\Magento\Sales\Api\OrderRepositoryInterface::getList()` methods.

The extension attribute will store the custom data. The after plugin will be used to add the custom data to the order object when it is fetched from the API.

Here is the code for the extension attribute and after plugin:

PHP

namespace MyVendor\MyModule\Api\Data;
interface OrderExtensionInterface extends \Magento\Sales\Api\Data\OrderInterface
{
    /
     * Get custom data.
     * * @return string|null
     */
    public function getCustomData();
    /
     * Set custom data.
     * * @param string $customData
     * @return $this
     */
    public function setCustomData($customData);
}
namespace MyVendor\MyModule\Model;
class OrderRepository extends \Magento\Sales\Api\OrderRepositoryInterface
{
    /
     * After get order.
     * * @param \Magento\Sales\Api\OrderRepositoryInterface $subject
     * @param \Magento\Sales\Api\Data\OrderInterface $order
     * @return \Magento\Sales\Api\Data\OrderInterface
    public function afterGetOrder($subject, $order)
        if ($order instanceof OrderExtensionInterface) {
            $order->setCustomData('This is custom data');
        return $order;
    }
    /
     * After get list.
     * * @param \Magento\Sales\Api\OrderRepositoryInterface $subject
     * @param \Magento\Sales\Api\Data\OrderInterface[] $orders
     * @return \Magento\Sales\Api\Data\OrderInterface[]
    public function afterGetList($subject, $orders)
        foreach ($orders as $order) {
            if ($order instanceof OrderExtensionInterface) {
                $order->setCustomData('This is custom data');
        return $orders;
    }

Once the extension attribute and after plugin are created, the custom data will be added to orders fetched from the API.

NEW QUESTION # 83

Which condition must be satisfied to ensure that a Discard Subsequent Rules option that is set to "Yes" actually prevents multiple discounts from being applied to the same product?

- A. Each pricing rule must be created with Coupon code

- B. Each pricing rule must have From and To date.
- C. Each pricing rule must have the defined priority.

Answer: C

Explanation:

The Discard Subsequent Rules option is only applied if the pricing rules have different priorities. If two pricing rules have the same priority, the discount from both rules will be applied.

For the "Discard Subsequent Rules" option set to "Yes" to work effectively, each pricing rule must have a defined priority. When multiple discount rules can apply to the same product, Magento evaluates them in the order of their priority values. If a rule with "Discard Subsequent Rules" set to "Yes" is applied, any subsequent rules with lower priority (higher priority number) will not be applied to that product.

NEW QUESTION # 84

Which type of product would assist a seller who would like to offer an electronic version of an album for sale and sell each song individually?

- A. Simple
- B. Downloadable
- C. Configurable

Answer: B

Explanation:

The type of product that would assist a seller in offering an electronic version of an album and selling each song individually is a Downloadable product. In Adobe Commerce, a Downloadable product type is specifically designed for selling digital products such as music files, which customers can download. This type of product allows sellers to upload individual songs and sell them separately or as part of a complete album.

NEW QUESTION # 85

A developer needs to initialize the jQuery UI widget for a specific HTML tag. Which HTML attribute is used for this?

- A. data-ui
- B. data-mage-init
- C. x-magento-init

Answer: B

Explanation:

The data-mage-init HTML attribute is used to initialize the jQuery UI widget for a specific HTML tag. This attribute specifies the name of the widget and its configuration options as a JSON object.

The x-magento-init HTML attribute is used to initialize RequireJS modules for a specific HTML tag. The data-ui HTML attribute does not exist in Adobe Commerce.

Verified References: [Adobe Commerce Developer Guide - Initialize JavaScript components using the data- mage-init attribute] To initialize the jQuery UI widget in Adobe Commerce, the data-mage-init attribute is used in the HTML tag.

This attribute allows specifying the widget's component and its configuration in a JSON format. The x- magento-init is used for initializing JavaScript components in a similar manner but is typically used within < script > tags. There's no standard data-ui attribute used for this purpose in Magento 2.

NEW QUESTION # 86

Which action, if any, should be taken to enable filtering by attribute in the category's layered navigation?

- A. Set the category's "Anchor" display setting to "yes".
- B. Filtering by the attribute is enabled for every category automatically.
- C. Select "With layered navigation" from the category's display mode

Answer: A

Explanation:

To enable filtering by attribute in a category's layered navigation, you should set the category's "Is Anchor" setting to "Yes". This setting is found in the category's display settings within the admin panel. When a category is set as "Anchor", Magento will automatically include filtering options in the layered navigation block for all attributes that are configured to be used in layered navigation.
