NEW QUESTION # 162

Which statement is true about work in process (WIP) limits?

- A. Lower WIP limits improve flow
- B. Lower WIP limits result in fewer Stories being completed
- C. Higher WIP limits result in lower utilization
- D. Higher WIP limits provide richer feedback

Answer: A

Explanation:

Lowering the work in process (WIP) limits improves the flow of value through the system by reducing the amount of work that is started but not finished, minimizing the waste of context switching and multitasking, and increasing the focus and collaboration of the teams. Lower WIP limits also help identify and eliminate bottlenecks, balance demand and capacity, and accelerate feedback and learning. According to the SAFe Principle #6, visualizing and limiting WIP is one of the key practices to achieve continuous flow and deliver value in the shortest sustainable lead time. NEW QUESTION # 163

Which of the following activities does SAFe recommend as the first activity of the Inspect and Adapt event?

- A. Retrospective and problem-solving workshop
- B. PI System Demo
- C. Agreement on the problems to solve
- D. Quantitative measurement

Answer: B

Explanation:

The PI System Demo is the first activity of the Inspect and Adapt event, which shows all the Features that the Agile Release Train (ART) has developed during the Program Increment (PI)¹. It provides an opportunity for the ART to evaluate the current state of the Solution and collect feedback from the stakeholders². The other options are not the first activity of the Inspect and Adapt event, but rather subsequent activities that follow the PI System Demo. Quantitative and qualitative measurement is the second activity, which involves reviewing the PI performance and progress metrics³. Retrospective and problem-solving workshop is the third activity, which involves identifying and prioritizing the improvement opportunities for the next PI⁴. Agreement on the problems to solve is a step within the retrospective and problem-solving workshop, which involves reaching a consensus on the most critical issues to address⁵.
