HashiCorp Certified: Terraform Associate (004) (HCTA0-004) Sample Questions (Q139-Q144):

NEW QUESTION # 139

Using the terraform state rm command against a resource will destroy it.

- A. True
- B. False

Answer: B

Explanation:

The terraform state rm command removes a resource from Terraform's state file but does not destroy the resource in the actual infrastructure. It only removes Terraform's knowledge of the resource, meaning Terraform will no longer manage it.

If you run terraform state rm on a resource, Terraform will forget that the resource exists.

However, the resource will still exist in the cloud or infrastructure provider.

If you later run terraform apply, Terraform may try to recreate the resource because it is no longer present in its state file.

NEW QUESTION # 140

You can develop a custom provider to manage its resources using Terraform.

- A. True
- B. False

Answer: A

Explanation:

You can develop a custom provider to manage its resources using Terraform, as Terraform is an extensible tool that allows you to write your own plugins in Go language. You can also publish your custom provider to the Terraform Registry or use it privately.

NEW QUESTION # 141

Which statement describes a goal of Infrastructure as Code (IaC)?

- A. Write once, run anywhere.
- B. Defining a vendor-agnostic API.
- C. The programmatic configuration of resources.
- D. A pipeline process to test and deliver software.

Answer: C

Explanation:

Infrastructure as Code (IaC) refers to managing infrastructure programmatically, enabling automation and repeatability.

A is incorrect because IaC is not just about software delivery pipelines; it specifically deals with infrastructure.

B is incorrect because "Write once, run anywhere" applies more to software development than IaC.

D is incorrect because IaC does not enforce vendor-agnostic APIs; it depends on the tool and provider.

NEW QUESTION # 142

What does Terraform not reference when running a terraform apply -refresh-only ?

- A. Cloud provider
- B. Credentials

- C. State file
- D. Terraform resource definitions in configuration files

Answer: D

Explanation:

When running a terraform apply -refresh-only, Terraform does not reference the configuration files, but only the state file, credentials, and cloud provider. The purpose of this command is to update the state file with the current status of the real resources, without making any changes to them.

NEW QUESTION # 143

Terraform requires the Go runtime as a prerequisite for installation.

- A. True
- B. False

Answer: B

Explanation:

Terraform is written in Go, but it is distributed as a standalone binary and does not require the Go runtime.

Users do not need to install Go to run Terraform.
