To improve search performance when migrating a large volume of donation data into the Nonprofit Success Pack (NPSP) for a nonprofit, the consultant should consider implementing Skinny Tables and Custom Index.

Here is a detailed explanation:

* Skinny Tables:

* Skinny tables are a performance optimization technique in Salesforce used to improve the performance of read-only operations.

* They are highly effective in environments with large volumes of data, such as the scenario described with 20 years of donation data and over 200,000 donations each year.

- * A skinny table contains frequently accessed fields and can significantly reduce query time.
  - * Skinny tables are maintained by Salesforce and do not require changes to the custom object schema or existing queries.
  - * They are particularly useful for scenarios involving complex reports and list views.
  - * Custom Index:
  - * Custom indexes enhance the performance of search queries in Salesforce.
  - * Creating custom indexes on fields that are frequently used in search filters and conditions can drastically improve search performance.
  - * Salesforce allows up to 25 custom indexes per object, which can be leveraged to optimize searches on key fields such as donor names, donation dates, and amounts.
  - * Custom indexes should be applied to fields involved in frequently used WHERE clauses in SOQL queries.
