NEW QUESTION # 34

Which of the following statements describe the strengths associated with public-private partnerships (PPPs)?
(Choose two.)

- A. Public organizations can better understand what the private sector experiences and inform policy and the enactment of laws
- B. Data-protection privacy policies provide an opportunity to develop information sharing protocols to prevent unauthorized access to information
- C. Data-protection privacy policies prohibit the evolution of PPPs due to restrictions based on legacy government legislation
- D. Small business owners can choose third-party providers or financial institutions to keep their private data safe which can easily be shared within a PPP

Answer: A,B

Explanation:

Public-private partnerships allow public organizations to gain insights from the private sector to shape effective policies and legislation. Additionally, strong data protection and privacy frameworks help create secure information-sharing protocols within PPPs, enhancing collaboration while preventing unauthorized access.

NEW QUESTION # 35

When services are provided by a trust and company service provider (TCSP) connected to a high-risk country, which of the following may present an immediate financial crime risk concern?

- A. Governance framework
- B. Management structure
- C. Origin of the funds
- D. Asset structure

Answer: C

Explanation:

The origin of the funds is a primary financial crime risk when dealing with a TCSP connected to a high-risk country. Funds originating from such jurisdictions may be linked to illicit activity, especially if source verification is weak or absent.
