Splunk Core Certified Power User Exam Sample Questions (Q165-Q170):

NEW QUESTION # 165
Clicking a SEGMENT on a chart, _____.

- A. drills down for that value
- B. adds the highlighted value to the search criteria
- C. highlights the field value across the chart

Answer: B

NEW QUESTION # 166
A field alias is created where field1-fieid2 and the Overwrite Field Values checkbox is selected.
What happens if an event only contains values for fieid1?

- A. field2 values are removed from the events.
- B. field2 values are unchanged.
- C. field1 and field2 values are merged.
- D. field2 values are replaced with the value of the field1.

Answer: D

Explanation:
The correct answer is D. field2 values are replaced with the value of the field1.
A field alias is a way to associate an additional (new) name with an existing field name. A field alias can be used to normalize fields from different sources that have different names but represent the same data. Field aliases can also be used to rename fields for clarity or convenience1.
When you create a field alias in Splunk Web, you can select the Overwrite Field Values option to change the behavior of the field alias. This option affects how the Splunk software handles situations where the original field has no value or does not exist, as well as situations where the alias field already exists as a field in your events, alongside the original field2.
If you select the Overwrite Field Values option, the following rules apply:
If the original field does not exist or has no value in an event, the alias field is removed from that event.
If the original field and the alias field both exist in an event, the value of the alias field is replaced with the value of the original field.
If you do not select the Overwrite Field Values option, the following rules apply:
If the original field does not exist or has no value in an event, the alias field is unchanged in that event.
If the original field and the alias field both exist in an event, both fields are retained with their respective values.
Therefore, if you create a field alias where field1-field2 and select the Overwrite Field Values option, and an event only contains values for field1, then the value of field2 will be replaced with the value of field1.

NEW QUESTION # 167
What is a benefit of installing the Splunk Common Information Model (CIM) add-on?

- A. It provides users with a standardized set of field names and tags to normalize data.
- B. It permits users to create workflow actions to align with industry standards.
- C. It enables users to itemize their events based on the results of the Search Job Inspector.
- D. It allows users to create 3-D models of their data and export these visualizations.

Answer: A

Explanation:
It provides users with a standardized set of field names and tags to normalize data.
The Splunk CIM add-on provides a standardized set of field names and data models, which allows users to normalize and categorize data from various sources into a common format. This helps with data interoperability and enables faster, more consistent reporting and searching across different data sources.

NEW QUESTION # 168
Which of the following statements describes an event type?

- A. A log level measurement: info, warn, error.
- B. Either a log, a metric, or a trace.
- C. A knowledge object that is applied before fields are extracted.
- D. A field for categorizing events based on a search string.

Answer: D

Explanation:
This is because an event type is a knowledge object that assigns a user-defined name to a set of events that match a specific search criteria. For example, you can create an event type named successful_purchase for events that have sourcetype=access_combined, status=200, and action=purchase. Then, you can use eventtype=successful_purchase as a search term to find those events. You can also use event types to create alerts, reports, and dashboards. You can learn more about event types from the Splunk documentation1. The other options are incorrect because they do not describe what an event type is. A log level measurement is a field that indicates the severity of an event, such as info, warn, or error. A knowledge object that is applied before fields are extracted is a source type, which identifies the format and structure of the data. Either a log, a metric, or a trace is a type of data that Splunk can ingest and analyze, but not an event type.

NEW QUESTION # 169
When you mouse over and click to add a search term this (thesE. Boolean operator(s) is(arE. not implied.
(Select all that apply).

- A. NOT
- B. AND
- C. OR
- D. ( )

Answer: D
