NEW QUESTION # 64

Which of the following configuration settings can be used to automatically assign business partners? Note:

There are 2 correct answers to this question.

- A. Freight order type
- B. Business function
- C. Partner function
- D. Freight unit type

Answer: A,C

Explanation:

In SAP S/4HANA Transportation Management, business partners (e.g., carriers, shippers) can be automatically assigned to documents using specific configuration settings. According to the SAP documentation:

* Partner function (A): Partner functions define roles (e.g., carrier, ordering party) and can be configured with determination rules to automatically assign business partners based on criteria like location or agreement.

* Freight order type (B): The freight order type can include a partner determination profile that specifies rules for automatically assigning business partners, such as carriers, to the freight order.

The other options are incorrect:

* Freight unit type (C) controls freight unit creation but does not directly handle business partner assignment.

* Business function (D) is a system-level setting for enabling features, not for partner assignment.
