Huawei HCSA-Presales-IP Network Certification V3.0 Sample Questions (Q134-Q139):

NEW QUESTION # 134

The design concept of Huawei's graded protection solution is a "triple protection system managed by one center". So what do one center and triple protection mean respectively?

- A. One center refers to the secure data center, and the triple protection refers to the secure communication network, security area boundary, and security operation management.

- B. One center refers to the security management center, and the triple protection refers to the secure communication network, security area boundary, and secure computing environment.
- C. One center refers to the security management center, and the triple protection refers to network security, host security, and application security respectively.
- D. One center refers to the security computing center, and the triple protection refers to the secure communication network, security area boundary, and security operation management.

Answer: B

NEW QUESTION # 135

Which of the following statements are TRUE about fixed ports and cards of AR routers?

- A. On some models, WAN ports can be switched to LAN ports.
- B. LAN ports can be switched to WAN ports using the undo portswitch command.
- C. Layer 2 cards configured with VLANIF interfaces support simple Layer 3 forwarding, but do not support NAT, MPLS, IPsec, and HQoS.
- D. All Layer 2 cards support LAN/WAN switching.

Answer: A,B,C

Explanation:

Huawei's AR routers offer flexible configurations for fixed ports and modular cards, enabling them to adapt to various networking scenarios. Key points include:

LAN-to-WAN switching: LAN ports can be converted to WAN ports using the undo portswitch command, allowing greater flexibility in network design.

WAN-to-LAN switching: Some AR router models support converting WAN ports to LAN ports, depending on the hardware and software capabilities.

Layer 2 card limitations: Layer 2 cards configured with VLANIF interfaces can perform basic Layer 3 forwarding but lack advanced features like NAT, MPLS, IPsec, and HQoS.

The claim that all Layer 2 cards support LAN/WAN switching is incorrect. Only specific models and configurations support this functionality, making option D false.
