DAMA Data Management Fundamentals Sample Questions (Q255-Q260):

NEW QUESTION # 255

Big data management requires:

- A. A certification in data science
- B. No discipline at all
- C. Big ideas with big budgets
- D. Less discipline than relational data management
- E. More discipline than relational data management

Answer: E

Explanation:

Big data management involves handling large, complex, and unstructured datasets, requiring greater discipline in governance, quality, and processing compared to relational data. The DAMA-DMBOK states:

"Big data management requires more discipline than traditional relational data management due to the volume, velocity, variety, and veracity challenges" (DMBOK2, Chapter 13: Data Integration and Interoperability, p. 521).

Options A, B, D, and E are incorrect: big data requires discipline, not less or none, and budgets or certifications are irrelevant to the question.

Reference: DAMA-DMBOK2, Chapter 13: Data Integration and Interoperability, Section 4.3, p. 521.
