What Topics Are Covered in ADM-201 Exam?

This Salesforce Administrator certification exam evaluates the candidate's knowledge and competency in a long list of technical domains such as:

- Management of Activities and Collaboration — In this domain, candidates need to detail the benefits of activity management and talk about the aspects of Chatter like feed, security features, and the following.
- Reports on Analytics and Dashboards — This objective evaluates whether candidates know the tools accessible when making a report, how the sharing structure influences reports, the choices to be made while dealing with dashboards, and the uses of custom kinds of reports.
- Common & Custom Objects — For this topic, candidates must be able to define the standard architecture of objects, know how to edit fields and layouts of pages for custom and standard objects while realizing the impact of removing fields, and decide how to design and designate layouts of pages, types of records, and processes for various businesses for common and custom items.
- Workflow as well as Process Automation — Here, candidates need to choose the perfect automation solution given the process or workflow and have an understanding of the capabilities of the processes for approval.
- User Setup — This next area tests whether a candidate knows the steps involved in setting up a user and maintaining them (for example, assigning licenses, resetting passwords, and resolving user accounts that were locked). It also checks if candidates grasp what happens when they activate, deactivate, or freeze users.
- Organizational Setup — This first domain examines the candidate's ability to explain info available in the context of a company (for instance, fiscal year, working hours, managing currency, default issues) and to differentiate between the multiple UI aspects that an admin monitors (e.g., both UI & search settings, views list, layouts of homepages) while knowing the implications those features have.
- Service as well as Support Apps — In this area, test-takers must explain the characteristics of managing cases, show how to automate case management, describe what can be done using the Salesforce knowledge, and finally, detail the power of Salesforce communities.
- Sales & Marketing Apps — Here, examinees need to identify the requirements and impacts of the sales, use opportunity tools to point out the right sales productivity options, know when to use different products alongside Books for Pricing, be aware of the power of automation tools & campaign maintenance, and know what can be done using the Salesforce content.

Salesforce ADM-201 Exam Tests the candidate's knowledge in various areas related to Salesforce administration, including security and access, standard and custom objects, sales and marketing applications, service and support applications, data management, and analytics. Candidates must have a good understanding of these topics to pass the exam.

The ADM-201 certification exam consists of 60 multiple-choice questions that must be answered within 105 minutes. ADM-201 exam is conducted in a proctored environment and can be taken either online or at a testing center. ADM-201 exam is designed to test the candidate's knowledge and skills in various areas, including Salesforce application administration, data management, security, and automation. It is recommended that candidates have at least six months of experience in Salesforce administration before attempting the exam.
