- B. Focus on the users who represent your main customer group.
- C. What people say is often not what they do, think or feel.
- D. Ask a lot of "why" questions to get valuable data

Answer: C,D

NEW QUESTION # 35

_____ enhances networking, plays role in effective leadership, promotes team building, and helps us understand not only how, but why people think and feel as they do.

Note: There are 1 correct answers to this question.

- A. Empathy
- B. Cultural
- C. Being human
- D. Desirability

Answer: A

NEW QUESTION # 36

What is the aim of a brain dump exercise in the scoping phase? Note: There are 2 correct answers to this question.

- A. To identify and prioritize the best ideas
- B. To explore different perspectives in the team
- C. To identify the main personas in the context of the design challenge
- D. To create a common understanding of the challenge.

Answer: B,D

Explanation:

A brain dump exercise is a valuable tool in the scoping phase of Design Thinking, as it helps teams align and clarify their thoughts about the challenge. Here's why the correct answers are C and D:

* Why this is incorrect: Identifying personas typically occurs during the Empathize phase, after gathering user insights. A brain dump exercise in the scoping phase focuses on clarifying the challenge, not defining personas.

NEW QUESTION # 37

Which of the following questions is an open-ended interview question? Note: There is 1 correct answer to this question

- A. Is it difficult to fill out the displayed form?
- B. Do you think we should display the user profile on the left?
- C. Why is the user interface confusing?
- D. Do you like the user interface?

Answer: C

Explanation:

Open-ended interview questions are designed to encourage participants to share detailed, thoughtful responses rather than providing simple "yes" or "no" answers. These types of questions are particularly valuable in the Empathize phase of Design Thinking, where the goal is to deeply understand user experiences, challenges, and needs. Here's a detailed explanation of why the correct answer is D:

* Why this is incorrect: This is a closed-ended question because it prompts a specific response ("yes" or "no") and limits the participant's ability to elaborate. It also introduces bias by suggesting a particular solution (displaying the user profile on the left).

Taking a design-thinking approach forces you to answer an entirely different question in the beginning. The first question is what?

Note: There are 1 correct answers to this question.
