- C. Do not import customer records and asks customers to create new accounts the firstfame they try to log in to the B2C Commerce storefront.
- D. Import the customer records, with the hashed password as a custom attribute, and during the login compare the entered password with the hashed password and save it in the password field.

NEW QUESTION #60

During a load test the storefront shows steady but slow performance on all the paces being tested. The Architect opens Pipeline Profiler and sorts the data by *total time" column. The following come as the top Ave items:

| Controller Name | Function Name | Hits | | Average Time | Minimum Time | Maximum Time |
|--------------------|-------------------|---------|------------|-----------------|-----------------|-----------------|
| Product | Detail | 38,880 | 23,606,640 | 607 | 39 | 2,311 |
| Search | Show | 32,400 | 15/020.360 | 464 | 107 | 1.143 |

| Product | HitTile | 239,760 | 7,944.480 | 33 | 10 | 245 |

Which controller should the Architect focus on to further investigate the performance issue?

- A. Home-IncludeHeaderMenu as It has highest average time.
- B. Product-HitTile asit has the highest hits during the load test.
- C. Search Show as this Is one of the key controllers that the customer uses
- D. Product-Detail as It has the highest total time and highest maximum time.

Answer: D

Explanation:

Focusing on the 'Product-Detail' controller is prudent given that it has the highest total time and the highest maximum time (Answer C), suggesting that it significantly contributes to the overall load and potential slowdowns on the site. By analyzing and optimizing this controller, the architect can potentially achieve the most substantial improvement in performance. Efforts might include optimizing database queries, caching frequently requested data, or simplifying complex logic in the Product-Detail page's processing.

NEW QUESTION #61

A client receives multiple feeds from third parties on the same SFTP location:

- * Product prices (sftp: prod/prices)
- * Stores information (sftp: prod/stores;
- * Product information (sftp: prod/catalog)
- * Categories information (sftp: prod/marketing)
- * Content (sftp: prod/marketing)

Some of the feeds are placed on sftp multiple times a day, as the information is updated in the source system.

The Architect decides to have only two jobs:

- * One that checks and downloads available feeds every hour
- * One that imports the files from Webdav once a day before the data replication, using the standards steps available in the Job Framework Which design is correctfor the import Job, taking the steps scope in consideration?
 - A. four sibling flows execute steps ki parallel: import products, stores, prices, content- fifth flow executes: import categories-last flow executes steps In sequence: reindex
 - B. -Four sibling flows execute steps in parallel: import products, stores, price, content-last flow executes steps in sequence: import:categories, reindex
 - C. foursibling flows execute steps in parallel: import products, stores, prices, content- last flow executes steps in sequence import categories, reindex
 - D. three siting flows Import steps In parallel: import products, stores, prices- fourth flow executes: import categories- last flow executes steps in sequece: reindex, Import content

Answer: C

Explanation:

This design maximizes efficiency and concurrency. By having the jobs that import products, stores, prices, and content run in parallel, the system can handle multiple data streams simultaneously, reducing total processing time. The sequential execution of importing categories followed by reindexing ensures that all new and updated information is properly indexed and available for site use, following the completion of the import of more frequently updated data. This order respects dependencies between steps and aligns with best practices for handling complex data workflows in B2C Commerce environments.
