Universal Containers needs to create a roll-up summary field on a custom object that counts the number of related records on another custom object.

What type of field must exist before the roll-up summary can be created, and where should it be located?

- A. A master-detail relationship field on the parent object.
- B. A lookup relationship field on the parent object.
- C. A lookup relationship field on the child object.
- D. A master-detail relationship field on the child object.

Answer: D

NEW QUESTION # 58

DreamHouse Realty (DR) has many properties for sale and wants to identify the highest value of all Offer__c records on each Property__c record.

What solution should the app builder use to meet DreamHouse Realty's needs?

- A. Master-Detail Child Object
- B. Text Area (Long)
- C. Multi-select Picklist
- D. Lookup Object

Answer: A

Explanation:

Explanation

The solution that the app builder should use to meet DreamHouse Realty's needs is Master-Detail Child Object. A master-detail relationship can be used to create a parent-child relationship between two objects, where the child records inherit the sharing and security settings of their parent record. The app builder can create a roll-up summary field on the parent object to calculate the highest value of all child records. Option B is incorrect because Text Area (Long) is a field type that allows users to enter up to 131,072 characters on one line, which is not suitable for this requirement. Option C is incorrect because Multi-select Picklist is a field type that allows users to select multiple values from a predefined list, which is not suitable for this requirement. Option D is incorrect because Lookup Object is not a valid term, but rather Lookup Relationship, which is a type of relationship that links two objects together, but does not support roll-up summary fields.

NEW QUESTION # 59

Where can a Standard Lightning Component be placed in the Lightning app builder tool?

- A. Mobile Card

- B. Canvas
- C. Mini Page Layout
- D. Console Layout

Answer: B

NEW QUESTION # 60

At Universal Containers, each admin and developer use a separate developer pro sandbox. Configuration and code are then migrated to a partial data sandbox for combination and initial testing. Once approved the configuration and code are then migrated to a full sandbox for final load and regression testing before going to production.

When should the full sandbox be refreshed?

- A. After each major release to production.
- B. After each push from the partial data sandbox.
- C. After a new user is added to production.
- D. After user acceptance testing is complete.

Answer: A

Explanation:

Explanation

The full sandbox should be refreshed after each major release to production. This way, the full sandbox will have the most updated data and metadata from the production org, and can be used for final load and regression testing before the next release. Option A is incorrect because refreshing the full sandbox after user acceptance testing is complete is not necessary, as user acceptance testing can be done in the partial data sandbox or the production org. Option B is incorrect because refreshing the full sandbox after each push from the partial data sandbox is not necessary, as the full sandbox can receive configuration and code changes from the partial data sandbox without refreshing. Option D is incorrect because refreshing the full sandbox after a new user is added to production is not necessary, as adding a new user does not affect the data and metadata in the full sandbox.
