Splunk Phantom Certified Admin Sample Questions (Q16-Q21):

NEW QUESTION # 16
Which app allows a user to run Splunk queries from within Phantom?

- A. Splunk App for Phantom?
- B. Splunk App for Phantom Reporting.
- C. The Integrated Splunk/Phantom app.
- D. Phantom App for Splunk.

Answer: A

Explanation:
The Splunk App for Phantom allows users to run Splunk queries directly from within the Phantom platform. This app facilitates the integration between Splunk and Phantom, enabling users to post data to Splunk as events, update notable events, run SPL (Search Processing Language) queries, and pull events from Splunk into Phantom. By configuring the asset settings and ingest settings in the configured asset, users can leverage the full capabilities of Splunk within the Phantom environment.

NEW QUESTION # 17
Which of the following is a reason to create a new role in SOAR?

- A. To define a set of users who have access to a special label.
- B. To define a set of users who have access to an event's reports.
- C. To define a set of users who have access to a sensitive tag.
- D. To define a set of users who have access to a restricted app.

Answer: D

Explanation:
In Splunk SOAR, roles serve multiple purposes, including granting users permission to access system functionality or restricting access to parts of the system. Creating a new role is often necessary when there is a need to define a specific set of users who have access to a restricted app. This allows for granular control over who can interact with certain apps, ensuring that only authorized users can use them. While roles can also be used to manage access to labels, reports, and tags, the primary reason for creating a new role is typically related to controlling access to apps and their associated functionalities within the SOAR platform.

NEW QUESTION # 18
Seventy can be set during ingestion and later changed manually. What other mechanism can change the severity or a container?

- A. Actions
- B. Notes
- C. Service level agreement (SLA) expiration
- D. Playbooks

Answer: A

NEW QUESTION # 19
Without customizing container status within Phantom, what are the three types of status for a container?

- A. Low, Medium, Critical
- B. New, In Progress, Closed
- C. Low, Medium, High
- D. Mew, Open, Resolved

Answer: B

Explanation:
Within Splunk SOAR, containers (which represent incidents, cases, or events) have a lifecycle that is tracked through their status.
The default statuses available without any customization are "New", "In Progress", and "Closed". These statuses help in organizing and managing the incident response process, allowing users to easily track the progress of investigations and responses from initial detection through to resolution.

NEW QUESTION # 20
What does a user need to do to have a container with an event from Splunk use context-aware actions designed for notable events?

- A. Rename the event_id field from the notable event to splunkNotableEventld.
- B. Add a custom field to the container named event_id and set the custom field's data type to splunk notable event id.
- C. Include the notable event's event_id field and set the artifacts label to aplunk notable event id.
- D. Include the event_id field in the search results and add a CEF definition to Phantom for event_id, datatype splunk notable event id.

Answer: B
