NEW QUESTION # 179

How is management external to the Scrum Team involved in the Daily Scrum? (Choose the best answer.)

- A. The Scrum Master speaks on their behalf.
- B. The Product Owner represents their opinions.
- C. Management gives an update at the start of each Daily Scrum.
- D. Managers are not required at the Daily Scrum.

Answer: D

Explanation:

According to the Scrum Guide, management external to the Scrum Team is not involved in the Daily Scrum at all. The Daily Scrum is an internal event for the Development Team to inspect their progress toward the Sprint Goal and plan their work for the next 24 hours. The other options are not valid ways for management to be involved in the Daily Scrum, as they are either intrusive (such as giving an update or speaking on behalf of others) or unnecessary (such as being represented by the Product Owner or the Scrum Master).

Which phrase best describes a Product Owner?

- A. Go-between development team and customers.

Answer: D

Therefore, a Product Owner should focus on delivering value to the customers and stakeholders through the product.

- D. The person coming in last. This encourages people to be on time and helps to stay within the time-box.
- E. Whoever the Development Team decides should start.

Answer: E
