Salesforce Certified Development Lifecycle and Deployment Architect Sample Questions (Q204-Q209):

NEW QUESTION # 204

What are two limitations an architect should consider when designing a strategy for managing technical reference data, with multiple related objects?

Choose 2 answers

- A. Depth of nested relationships
- B. HTTP response size
- C. Apex CPU limits
- D. Circular relationships

Answer: B,C

Explanation:

Apex CPU limits and HTTP response size are two limitations that an architect should consider when designing a strategy for managing technical reference data, with multiple related objects. Apex CPU limits may be exceeded if the data retrieval or manipulation logic is complex or inefficient. HTTP response size may be too large if the data payload contains many related objects or fields. Circular relationships and depth of nested relationships are not limitations, but design considerations that may affect the data model and query performance.
