Medical Professional Certified Case Manager Certification Exam (CCM) Sample Questions (Q32-Q37):

NEW QUESTION # 32

What does discharge confirm under the FIDIC Red Book (edition 1999)?

- A. None of the above three statements is correct.
- B. It confirms full and final settlement of all money due to the Contractor.
- C. It confirms the immediate end to the Contract unconditionally whenever issued.
- D. It confirms interim settlement of all money due to the Contractor

Answer: B

Explanation:

Discharge under FIDIC Red Book 1999 confirms full and final settlement of all money due to the Contractor.

It signifies the Contractor's acceptance of the Final Payment Certificate and releases the Employer from further financial obligations related to the contract.

Options A and C misrepresent the nature of discharge.

Discharge is not a unilateral immediate termination but a financial closure.

NEW QUESTION # 33

Towards the end of implementing a varied work (initiated originally by the Contractor as a "Value Engineering Proposal", relevant designs provided by the Contractor) it turned out, that there is some part of it not complying with the otherwise prevailing standards. Which statements are correct in this situation? [FIDIC Red Book, 2017 Edition] Choose all of the correct answers (multiple possibilities).

- A. In this situation, the whole of the varied works should be removed, and the original technical content reinstated.
- B. The Contractor shall immediately rectify, ensuring that the varied work fully complies with the prevailing standards.
- C. In case it is necessary, the Contractor shall prepare designs for works subject to the Value Engineering, hence, it is up to the Contractor to ensure that the works are fit for the purposes, including that the designs are correct, regardless of any approval or "no-objection" of the Engineer.
- D. Since the design was approved by the Engineer, the Contractor might not be found responsible for such discrepancy, hence, to be fully compensated.

Answer: B,C

Explanation:

Option C is correct: The Contractor is obligated to rectify any non-compliance with prevailing standards promptly.

Option D is correct: The Contractor carries responsibility for design fitness and correctness, even if the Engineer has approved or not objected to the design.

Option A is incorrect; Engineer approval does not absolve the Contractor from responsibility for defective design or works.

Option B is not necessarily required; only non-compliant parts need correction, not entire varied works.

NEW QUESTION # 34

You are teaching a group of early career professionals in the Contract Management department about the FIDIC 2017 Rainbow Suite of contract, and you are explaining about the intention of Delay Damages. Which one of the following statements is correct?

- A. None of the above.
- B. Delay Damages is intended to provide full compensation to the Employer for all damages that it is expected to suffer as a result of the delay.
- C. Delay Damages is not intended to remove burden for the Employer to demonstrate and prove that it has suffered any loss or damage.
- D. Delay Damages is intended to be treated as an incentive for the Contractor to perform on time.

Answer: D

Explanation:

Delay Damages under FIDIC are primarily a pre-agreed measure to incentivize the Contractor to complete works on time rather than full compensation for all losses suffered. They simplify the process by avoiding the need for the Employer to prove actual losses.

Option A is incorrect; Delay Damages are generally not full compensation.

Option C is incorrect because Delay Damages remove the Employer's burden to prove actual loss.

Option B is the correct interpretation.

NEW QUESTION # 35

Under both FIDIC Yellow Book (YB) and Silver Book (SB) (edition 1999), if the Engineer (YB) / Employer (SB) instructs the Contractor based on Sub-Clause 8.6 to provide a revised programme, the acceptance by the Engineer (YB) / Employer (SB) of a revised programme with a completion within Time of Completion entitles the Contractor to a payment of the needed extra costs. Is this statement true or false?

- A. False
- B. True

Answer: A

Explanation:

This statement is false. Acceptance of a revised programme that shows completion within the Time for Completion does not automatically entitle the Contractor to extra payment. The Contractor must demonstrate additional costs arising from the instruction or circumstances to claim payment.

The acceptance of a compliant programme is a scheduling and administrative matter, not a compensation guarantee.

NEW QUESTION # 36

The FIDIC Books are evolutions of earlier contract models, and although the different versions of a specific model are not the same, familiarity in definitions and structure makes it easier to work with different FIDIC books as well as with their different editions.

Is this statement true or false?

- A. False
- B. True

Answer: B

Explanation:

This statement is true. The FIDIC suite of contracts, including Red, Yellow, and Silver Books, have evolved from earlier editions and contract models, but they retain a common structure, terminology, and approach to risk allocation. This familiarity allows professionals who know one FIDIC contract to adapt more easily to other FIDIC contracts or updated editions. For example, common terms like Engineer, Employer, Contractor, Variation, and Claims exist across editions with consistent meaning.

The modular and familiar structure supports easier contract administration, negotiation, and interpretation.

However, differences in clauses, obligations, and procedures between editions (e.g., 1999 vs. 2017) require careful review.

Nevertheless, the shared foundations mean prior experience provides valuable understanding, streamlining learning and application.
