IIBA Certified business analysis professional (CBAP) application Sample Questions (Q300-Q305):

NEW QUESTION # 300

You are the business analyst for your organization and are working on prioritizing the project requirements. Management has asked you to prioritize the requirements based on the cost-benefit analysis for the requirements' value to the organization.

What basis for prioritization are you using in this instance?

- A. Stakeholder agreement
- B. Business value
- C. Urgency
- D. Likelihood of success

Answer: B

Explanation:

Business value is a basis for prioritizing requirements that considers the benefits and costs of each requirement to the organization. It helps to identify the most valuable requirements that can deliver the highest return on investment. Business value can be measured in terms of revenue, cost savings, customer satisfaction, market share, competitive advantage, or other criteria that are relevant to the organization's goals and objectives. Answer: D

NEW QUESTION # 304

What element of the plan business analysis process affects the business analysis duties that need to be performed?

- A. The experience of the business analyst
- B. The expected completion date of the business analysis duties
- C. The type of project or initiative
- D. The experience of the project manager

Answer: C

Explanation:

The type of project or initiative affects the business analysis duties that need to be performed, as different types of projects may require different approaches, techniques, deliverables, and stakeholders. For example, a software development project may have different business analysis needs than a business process improvement project. The business analyst should plan the business analysis process according to the project type and its characteristics, such as scope, complexity, risk, methodology, and lifecycle.
