NEW QUESTION # 34

- A. 0
- B. 1
- C. 2

- D. 3

Answer: C

NEW QUESTION # 35

Which of the following features is the special requirement for smart grid?

- A. ROADM
- B. Transponder
- C. SAN Service
- D. PCM

Answer: D

Explanation:

The correct answer is PCM (Pulse Code Modulation). PCM is a critical feature for smart grids because it enables the integration of legacy analog and digital services, which are still widely used in grid communications.

Here's why PCM is essential for smart grids:

* Legacy Support: Many grid systems rely on analog signaling for SCADA, protection relays, and voice communication. PCM boards convert these analog signals into digital format for transmission over modern networks.

* Reliability: PCM ensures high-quality, lossless transmission of critical data, such as fault detection and control commands.

* Scalability: PCM solutions can be integrated into larger optical transport platforms, such as OTN or SDH, to support growing grid requirements.

Other options:

* Transponder: Used for wavelength conversion in optical networks but does not address the specific needs of smart grids.

* SAN Service: Refers to Storage Area Networks, which are unrelated to grid communications.

* ROADM (Reconfigurable Optical Add-Drop Multiplexer): Used for dynamic wavelength routing in optical networks but does not directly support grid-specific requirements.
