Huawei HCIA-Access V2.5 Sample Questions (Q49-Q54):

NEW QUESTION # 49

The routing table of a router contains the following two entries:

Destination/Mask Protocol Pre Cost Nexthop Interface

9.0.0.0/8 OSPF 10 50 1.1.1.1 Serial0

9.1.0.0/16 RIP 100 5 2.2.2.2 Ethernet0

If the router needs to forward packets with the destination address of 9.1.4.5, which of the following statements is correct?

- A. The router selects the second route, because this route matches the destination address 9.1.4.5 more accurately.
- B. The router selects the second route, because the metric of RIP is smaller.

- C. The router selects the second route, because the outbound interface is Ethernet0, which is faster than Serial0.
- D. The router selects the first route, because the priority of OSPF is higher.

Answer: A

Explanation:

When a router forwards packets, it selects the route with the longest prefix match (most specific route) for the destination address.

* First Route : Matches 9.0.0.0/8, which covers all IP addresses starting with 9.

* Second Route : Matches 9.1.0.0/16, which is more specific and covers IP addresses starting with 9.1.

For the destination address 9.1.4.5 , the second route (9.1.0.0/16) is a better match because it is more specific than the first route (9.0.0.0/8).

* Option A : Incorrect. OSPF has a higher priority, but the longest prefix match takes precedence over priority.

* Option B : Correct. The second route matches the destination address more accurately.

* Option C : Incorrect. Metric is not considered when comparing routes with different prefix lengths.

* Option D : Incorrect. Interface speed is irrelevant in route selection.
