NEW QUESTION # 143

Which of the following most accurately defines what group counselors mean by the term clarifying?

- A. encouraging clients to assess problems realistically
- B. offering plausible explanations for certain behaviors
- C. helping members sort through conflicting feelings

Answer: C

Explanation:

In group counseling, clarifying involves helping members sort through and articulate their thoughts and conflicting feelings. This process assists members in gaining a clearer understanding of themselves and the issues they are facing, which supports more effective group work and personal growth. "Clarifying is used by counselors to assist clients or group members in sorting through confusion, particularly when they have conflicting feelings or thoughts." Reference: Helwig, A. A. (2020). CPCE Study Guide and Review; Corey, G. (2016). Theory and Practice of Group Counseling (9th Edition).

- A. requires multiple researchers.
- B. tends to produce conflicting results.
- C. costs a great deal in terms of time, energy, and resources.

Answer: C

Explanation:

The Solomon four-group design is valuable for controlling threats to validity but is resource intensive. It requires more participants, more time, and more resources than simpler designs, making it less practical for many researchers.

NEW QUESTION # 145

An effective method for a group leader to help group members develop trust among themselves is to

- A. present personal examples of how trust has been developed in previous groups.
- B. require that group members only give positive feedback to each other.
- C. encourage group members to reveal their feelings of lack of trust to each other.

Answer: C

Explanation:

Encouraging group members to reveal their feelings of lack of trust to each other is an effective way for a group leader to promote openness and honesty. This process can foster authentic communication, address concerns directly, and gradually build trust. Artificially requiring only positive feedback does not lead to genuine trust.
