SolarWinds Hybrid Cloud Observability Network Monitoring Exam Sample Questions (Q114-Q119):

NEW QUESTION # 114

It is taking longer than normal for a single mission critical node to poll for data. Where would the polling interval for the node be changed?

- A. Settings > All Setting > Core Thresholds

- B. Node Details Summary > Edit Node > Polling
- C. Settings > All Settings > Polling Settings
- D. Node Details Summary > Resources > Memory

Answer: B

Explanation:

Comprehensive and Detailed Explanation From Exact Extract:

To change the polling interval for a specific node, navigate to the Node Details Summary, then choose "Edit Node." In the polling section, you can configure how often SolarWinds polls this node for status and statistics. This is the correct place for per-node polling interval adjustments.

The global polling settings under "Settings > All Settings > Polling Settings" (option D) affect all nodes, not an individual node.

NEW QUESTION # 116

Upon examining bandwidth utilization, it is confirmed that the total utilization and flow numbers do not match. What is the likely cause?

- A. a firewall is blocking the data flow configuration
- B. flows do not contain all traffic in bandwidth numbers
- C. receiving both IPv4 and IPv6 flows and not all are counted in total bandwidth
- D. SNMP bandwidth numbers for the interface need to be adjusted in the console

Answer: B

Explanation:

Comprehensive and Detailed Explanation From Exact Extract:

The most common cause of mismatch between bandwidth (SNMP) numbers and flow (NetFlow, sFlow, etc.) numbers is that not all network traffic is included in the flow export. SNMP bandwidth counters include all traffic traversing the interface, but NetFlow or other flow records may only represent sampled or filtered subsets, or may miss certain traffic due to export or device configuration limitations. This is a well- documented and expected difference in the SolarWinds platform.
