What is the Microsoft PL-600 Exam?

The Microsoft PL-600 Power Platform Solution Architect Expert Certification Exam helps experienced architects demonstrate their knowledge of planning, designing and deploying converged data center solutions using Microsoft products and technologies. Microsoft PL-600 Dumps help candidates with passing the exam easily and quickly. Prepare and pass the Microsoft PL-600 Power Platform Solution Architect Expert certification exam, an official entry-level exam validating fundamentals of designing, planning, and deploying a private cloud with Windows Server System and System Center. You'll learn how to help customers identify cloud requirements, plan for cloud adoption and migration, and design a complete solution.

Exam Requirements

As it is clear that PL-600 exam is associated with an expert-level certificate, some prior expertise is expected. Before you aim at it, make sure you have already worked as a Power Platform solution architect for 1 to 3 years. Also, a senior consultant or developer with around 7 to 10 years of work experience can also pass this certification exam and excel in the career. So, all these long years of expertise let a test-taker demonstrate a deeper understanding of Power Platform architecture.

Besides, before this exam, the candidate is required to have one of two certificates in advance: Microsoft Certified: Power Platform Functional Consultant Associate or Microsoft Certified: Power Platform Developer Associate. This is due to the fact that each of these accreditations strengthens out the foundational understanding of Microsoft Power Platform and simplifies the exam journey.
