ISACA Certified Data Privacy Solutions Engineer Sample Questions (Q79-Q84):

NEW QUESTION # 79

A technology company has just launched a mobile application for tracking health symptoms. This application is built on a mobile device technology stack that allows users to share their location and details of their symptoms. Which of the following is the GREATEST privacy concern with collecting this data via mobile devices?

- A. Data storage requirements
- B. Data usage without consent
- C. Client-side device ID
- D. Encryption of key data elements

Answer: B

NEW QUESTION # 80

When data processing is performed at a third-party data center, ownership of the risk PRIMARILY rests with the:

- A. Data controller
- B. Data scientist
- C. Data custodian
- D. Data processor

Answer: A

Explanation:

The data controller determines the purposes and means of processing and therefore retains primary accountability for risk—even if a processor or custodian executes processing. Data processors (C) act under instructions; custodians (A) safeguard data but do not define processing; data scientists (B) are operational users, not accountable owners.

"The data controller remains accountable for compliance and risk regardless of outsourcing processing activities."

NEW QUESTION # 81

Which of the following is the GREATEST benefit of adopting data minimization practices?

- A. Storage and encryption costs are reduced.
- B. Compliance requirements are met.
- C. The associated threat surface is reduced.
- D. Data retention efficiency is enhanced.

Answer: D

Explanation:

Unfortunately, the financial liability portion of retained personal information rarely shows up on an organization's financial balance sheet. And yet it is indeed a liability: the impact on an organization when cybercriminals steal that information or when the information is misused is real, in the form of breach response costs, the costs related to reducing harm inflicted on affected parties (think of credit monitoring services, a frequent remedy for stolen credit card numbers), fines from governmental regulators, and the occasional class-action lawsuit.

NEW QUESTION # 82

Which of the following is MOST important to ensure when developing a business case for the procurement of a new IT system that will process and store personal information?

- A. The system architecture is clearly defined.
- B. A risk assessment has been completed.
- C. Data protection requirements are included.
- D. Security controls are clearly defined.

Answer: C
