ISQI ISTQB Foundation Level - Acceptance Testing Sample Questions (Q33-Q38):

NEW QUESTION # 33

Which of the following information is most likely part of an acceptance test summary report?

- A. Test strategy and test design methods.
- B. Information to evaluate the level of risk for product release.
- C. Technical details on defect fixes.
- D. Test procedure information.

Answer: B

Explanation:

An acceptance test summary report is a high-level document produced at the end of acceptance testing. It provides stakeholders (especially business owners and decision-makers) with essential information to determine whether the system meets the acceptance criteria and whether it is ready for release.

Option A is correct because understanding the residual risk - based on test results, open defects, and coverage - is critical for release decisions. The summary report includes test execution status, significant findings, defect summaries, and an overall risk assessment.

Other options:

B (technical details on defect fixes) belong more in defect or technical reports, not in the acceptance summary.

C (test strategy/design methods) are part of the test plan, not the summary report.

D (test procedure info) is operational detail, not suited for a high-level summary report.

A). Information to evaluate the level of risk for product release.

NEW QUESTION # 34

Which one of the following answers lists characteristic of quality in use according to the quality in use model defined in ISO 25010?

- A. User experience
- B. Satisfaction
- C. Security
- D. Freedom of interference

Answer: B

Explanation:

According to ISO/IEC 25010:2011, the "Quality in Use" model includes characteristics that measure the system's impact on stakeholders during actual usage in a specific context.

The four main characteristics of Quality in Use are:

Effectiveness

Efficiency

Satisfaction

Freedom from Risk

Option C is correct because "Satisfaction" is one of the core quality-in-use characteristics and refers to the degree to which user needs are fulfilled in context.

Other options:

A (User experience) is a broader term not formally defined as a Quality in Use characteristic in ISO 25010.

B (Security) is part of the product quality model, not quality in use.

D (Freedom of interference) is not a defined term in ISO 25010; it may be a misstatement of "freedom from risk."

NEW QUESTION # 35

Which one of the following statements describes correctly how acceptance testing may be augmented with other test techniques or approaches?

- A. In a priority-based testing approach, prioritization of acceptance tests depends on identified product risks.
- B. In a model-based testing approach, acceptance tests are generated from graphical or textual models.
- C. In a risk-based testing approach, acceptance criteria are derived from the tester's experience and intuition.
- D. In a black-box testing approach, acceptance test scenarios follow the implemented sequence of function calls in the code.

Answer: B

Explanation:

Model-Based Testing (MBT) is a test design technique in which test cases are derived from a model that describes some aspects of the system's behavior. In the context of acceptance testing, MBT can be used to generate high-level acceptance test cases automatically from business process models, use case diagrams, state models, or decision tables.

Option A is correct because MBT supports the systematic generation of acceptance test cases from these models, enabling better coverage of business rules and workflows while maintaining traceability to the requirements.

Other options:

B is close but slightly off: prioritization of acceptance tests in a priority-based approach depends on business value or stakeholder-defined priorities, not strictly on product risks.

C is incorrect. Risk-based testing relies on structured risk assessment, not just intuition or experience.

D is false. Black-box testing focuses on inputs and outputs without referencing the internal structure (such as function calls), which is characteristic of white-box testing.

Exact Reference - ISTQB CTFL Acceptance Testing Syllabus (Section 2.3):

"Model-based testing can be used to generate acceptance test cases systematically based on models representing business processes or system behavior."

NEW QUESTION # 36

Which of the following report formats fits the intended audience BEST?

- A. Defect reports for the project's steering group
- B. Progress trend charts for the project manager
- C. Test results pie charts for the development team
- D. Top 3 testing project risks for system users

Answer: B

Explanation:

Effective test reporting should be tailored to the audience's role and needs. Project managers are typically concerned with high-level progress, schedules, risks, and milestones. Progress trend charts (e.g., test execution over time, defect trends) provide insights into how the project is advancing and help identify delays or bottlenecks.

Option B is correct as it fits the informational needs of a project manager.

Other options:

A: Defect reports are too detailed for steering groups, which prefer strategic summaries or risk reports.

C: Pie charts may provide high-level summaries, but development teams usually need detailed defect or test result data.

D: System users (e.g., customers) are not responsible for project risks and would not benefit from test risk rankings.

B). Progress trend charts for the project manager

NEW QUESTION # 37

Which one of the following scenarios characterizes UX task analysis BEST?

- A. Users are qualified depending on their physical and intellectual characteristics.
- B. Inspirations from similar sectors are sought to identify successful solutions.
- C. External conditions are considered as input for subsequent design steps.
- D. Use cases are analyzed and represented through business process models.

Answer: D
