Don't over-engineer solutions. Think about what you can do
Like focus on value, this principle is heavily focused on the prevention of waste. Waste correlates with complexity. Higher complexity means there are more opportunities for waste to creep into a system.
Focus on delivering the desired outcome, not building the most elegant and elaborate solution. Use the minimum number of steps to deliver that outcome, ensuring you are not over-processing (delivering quality above and beyond what is required).

NEW QUESTION # 202
A good way to apply the ITIL guiding principle 'keep it simple and practical' is to:

- A. Communicate so that the audience will hear
- B. Adopt a practice which is easy to follow
- C. Re-use nothing from the current state
- D. Understand that fast does not mean incomplete

Answer: B

Explanation:
The ITIL guiding principle 'keep it simple and practical' advises organizations to use the minimum number of steps and resources needed to accomplish an objective1. A good way to apply this principle is to adopt a practice which is easy to follow, understand, and communicate2. This helps to avoid unnecessary complexity, bureaucracy, and duplication3. - A. Deployment management
- B. Problem management
- C. Incident management
- D. Supplier management

Answer: C

NEW QUESTION # 204
Which is a description of service provision?

- A. Activities that an organization performs to deliver services
- B. A formal description of one or more services, designed to address the needs of a service consumer
- C. A way to help create value by facilitating outcomes that service consumers need
- D. Cooperation between two organizations to ensure that a service delivers value

Answer: A

Explanation:
Explanation
The ITIL SVS describes how all the components and activities of the organization work together as a system to enable value creation.
The SVS is made up of specific inputs, elements, and outputs relevant to service management. The key inputs to the SVS are opportunity and demand. The output of the SVS is value delivered by products and services.
Opportunity refers to options or possibilities to add value for stakeholders or otherwise improve the organization.
Demand refers to need or desire for products and services among internal and external consumers.
