ABPMP International Certified Business Process Associate (CBPA) Exam Sample Questions (Q98-Q103):

NEW QUESTION # 98

What is the primary goal of a business process?

- A. Add value to customers
- B. Produce the process output
- C. Document the inputs and outputs
- D. Focus on the work being performed

Answer: A

Explanation:

The primary goal of any business process is to deliver value to the customer, which may be internal or external. According to the ABPMP CBOK Guide, processes are defined as a set of related activities that transform inputs into outputs that are of value to the customer. This customer-centric view underpins the purpose and design of business processes.

NEW QUESTION # 99

Which approach should be used in a process model to standardize procedures and rules?

- A. A top-down approach to ensure consistency across business units
- B. A bottom-up approach to clarify all details upfront
- C. A top-down approach to clarify all details upfront
- D. A bottom-up approach to focus on the most important details and expedite the implementation process

Answer: A

Explanation:

A top-down approach helps in setting standardized procedures and rules across various business units, ensuring organizational consistency. This approach allows high-level strategic goals to guide the process design and implementation.

"A top-down modeling approach supports the alignment of business processes with strategic goals and ensures that standardization and governance are enforced across the organization."

NEW QUESTION # 100

Which statement is true for process-driven organizations?

- A. They are structured, managed, and controlled around core processes.
- B. They are structured, managed, and controlled around business functions.
- C. They avoid organizational changes to provide stable processes.
- D. Roles across departments are managed by business rules.

Answer: A

Explanation:

A process-driven organization is organized around core, end-to-end processes rather than traditional functions. This fosters cross-functional collaboration, clarity in ownership, and improved alignment with customer outcomes.

"Process-driven organizations are designed and managed around core processes rather than functional departments, enabling better customer value delivery and agility."

NEW QUESTION # 101

Which summarizes the best definition of Business Process Management (BPM)?

- A. Improved cash flow from detailed process documentation
- B. Better conditions by deploying a Business Process Management System (BPMS)
- C. Greater agility in achieving business-aligned goals
- D. Higher customer satisfaction by graphically depicted processes

Answer: C

Explanation:

BPM is a discipline focused on optimizing and aligning business processes to strategic goals. Its key benefit is organizational agility, enabling businesses to respond effectively to change and continuously improve.

"Business Process Management is a structured approach to optimizing and aligning business processes with strategy, enhancing agility, efficiency, and customer value."
